SMoVP Scriptwriter Job Description

Job Title: Scriptwriter for the Science Museum of Vedic Planetarium

Job Summary: We are seeking a creative and talented Scriptwriter to join our team. The ideal candidate should have a passion for Vedic culture and cosmology, combined with the ability to translate complex concepts into engaging and informative scripts for a diverse audience. You will collaborate closely with our curatorial, educational, and multimedia teams to develop scripts for planetarium shows, exhibits, and other multimedia content that align with our mission and educational goals.

Key Responsibilities:

- Research and develop an story board for the whole Science Museum and creat engaging and accurate scripts for the science museum shows, exhibits, and multimedia presentations that convey Vedic cosmology, astronomy, and related subjects.

- Work closely with subject matter experts, including astronomers, Vedic scholars, and educators, to ensure content accuracy and adherence to the museum's educational objectives.

- Translate complex Vedic and astronomical concepts into accessible, engaging narratives suitable for a wide range of audiences, including children, adults, and educational groups.

- Collaborate with the multimedia team to align scripts with visual and audio elements, ensuring a cohesive and immersive visitor experience.

- Participate in script read-throughs, revisions, and updates based on feedback from the museum staff and audience insights.

- Stay updated on the latest developments in Vedic scholarship and astronomy to incorporate relevant findings into scripts.

- Contribute ideas for new shows, exhibits, and educational programs that advance the museum's mission.

Qualifications: The scriptwriters must have qualifications that are equivalent to the ones specified below:

- Bachelor's degree in Screenwriting, Creative Writing, Communications, Sanskrit, Indian Studies, Astronomy, or a related field.

- Demonstrated experience in scriptwriting, preferably with a portfolio that includes work on educational, cultural, or scientific topics.

- Strong research skills and the ability to understand and convey complex concepts in a clear and engaging manner.

- Knowledge of Vedic texts, cosmology, and culture, with a keen interest in integrating this knowledge with contemporary scientific understanding.

- Excellent collaboration and communication skills, with the ability to work effectively across different teams and disciplines.
- Creativity, with a flair for storytelling and the ability to capture the imagination of diverse audiences.

- Ability to work on multiple projects simultaneously and meet deadlines.

What We Offer:

- A unique opportunity to contribute to the Museum of Vedic Planetarium, an institution at the forefront of presenting Vedic cosmology to the world.

- A collaborative and supportive work environment where creativity and innovation are encouraged.

- Competitive salary and benefits package, commensurate with experience and qualifications.

How to Apply: Please submit your resume/CV and a cover letter detailing your interest in the role and relevant experience. Include a portfolio of your scriptwriting work, especially any projects related to educational, cultural, or scientific content. Applications should be sent to ekgjps@gmail.com by 20 Feb 2024