DISCOVER

Ibiza is located east of the Iberian Peninsula, in the Mediterranean Sea, in the au-

It has a surface of 572 km² and it is a small big world that extends from the coast to inland in a smooth topography. Together with Formentera, it forms the Pityusic Islands, or Pine Islands as the Greeks called them.

Ibiza is made up of five towns: Ibiza, which is the capital, Santa Eulària des Riu, Sant Josep de Sa Talaia, Sant Antoni de Portmany, and Sant Joan de Labritja. Each of them offers its visitors both different and supplementary possibilities. According to the register's last data, the island has a population of over 140,000 inhabitants, although the number of residents grows considerably during summer season.

A FASCINATING PAST

Ibiza is one of the oldest urban environments in Western Mediterranean, and the first in the Balearic archipelago. Its past is stunning and fundamental to understand its present, its cultural and social reality, through the mosaic of cultures that have steadily occupied it since 2700 AC. The most important monument in Ibiza is the Renaissance wall of Dalt Vila, in Ibiza city, declared UNESCO World Heritage Site in 1999. There is an important historical and cultural patrimony scattered throughout the territory such as the sacred mount of Santa Eulària and Sant Miquel; the church-fortresses on each town, the singular defense towers, and wells and oil mills of Arab origin, declared Place of Cultural Interest. Throughout its history, Ibiza has always interacted with other cultures: Punics, Phoenicians, Romans, Arabs.

// A space for the development of the MICE sector in Ibiza

The Sant Josep de sa Talaia Town Council would like to invite agents involved in MICE and business and congress tourism to visit the recently inaugurated Caló de s'Oli Auditorium, which overlooks the sea and is one of the most emblematic cultural venues in the bay of Portmany, offering a unique and outstanding setting for musical events.

It is a multi-purpose space that was inaugurated last October by the Balearic President Francina Armengol and whose facilities include an open-air amphitheatre with capacity for a total of 300 people and a conventional auditorium with capacity for a further 255. It also has a multi-purpose hall and is equipped with dressing rooms and a large stage for holding conferences, concerts, plays, meetings and other events.

The interior hall has a large screen and a digital projection system (DGP) as well as a refined surround sound system that provides the halls with excellent acoustic quality. The PA system, microphone equipment and stage lighting, operated from the control station at the back of the hall, provides solutions to any technical requirement. In addition, the staggered arrangement of the seats in a tiered amphitheatre allows for perfect visibility of the stage area.

Casi un siglo de historias bajo un mismo techo. Un icono de Ibiza, una joya a los pies de Dalt Vila. Un hotel de lujo en el corazón de la ciudad de Ibiza. Abierto todo el año, nuestra escapada balear fue en su día refugio de las grandes estrellas de Hollywood durante los años cincuenta. Montesol allanó el camino a la paz y el amor en las décadas siguientes. Hoy en día, el hotel original de Ibiza sigue en pie.

Bajo el techo de Montesol Experimental, encontrará 33 habitaciones diseñadas por Dorothee Meilichzon, cada una con vistas a la ciudad de Ibiza, desde la hermosa Dalt Vila hasta el puerto deportivo donde los barcos viajan hacia y desde la cercana Formentera. En la planta baja, desayune, almuerce o cene en nuestro restaurante y terraza al aire libre o suba a nuestro bar de la azotea para disfrutar de una noche de cócteles. Un hotel emblemático, reimaginado.
