Ballon by Michael Herbig (GE)

East Germany, 1979. After initially failing to flee from the East to the West in a self-built hot-air balloon, two families struggle to make a second attempt, while the East German State Police are chasing them.

Michael Herbig's film Ballon tells the true story of the two East German families Strelzyk and Wetzel, which made headlines around the world in September 1979. In secrecy, the two families constructed a hot air balloon and made it by hand in order to escape from East to West Germany with it. When the Stasi gets to know of their plan, the escape becomes a battle against the clock.

Interactive workshop with Jan Van Esch (NL) & Ofure Kessi (TZ)

This workshop invites participants to explore the narratives and messages embedded in found textiles, particularly those featuring words, slogans, or images. In East African Swahili culture, text on clothes has long been used to communicate silently, from love statements to social commentary. The workshop will examine how imported clothes, often featuring English texts, brand names, and societal messages, fit into this tradition. Using poems by Ofure Kessi, inspired by words on clothes across Europe and East Africa, and textiles collected by Samwel Lazaro, participants will create new stories and artworks through hands-on activities.

Once upon a time, two boys, Azur and Asmar, were raised together by Jénane, a nurse who told them tales of a Djinn-fairy waiting to be freed by a heroic prince. Though as close as brothers, they were separated when Azur's father banished Jénane and Asmar. Years later, Azur, haunted by memories of the Djinn-fairy, travels to Asmar's homeland to find her. Reunited, the two discover that both seek the same fairy, and while their bond has been strained, they must learn to work together—but only one can succeed in their quest.

SINGELI EXHIBITION

A photo exhibition by Vanessa Mwingira in collaboration with PAM

Singeli is a sound that pulses with energy, speed, and life. It emerged over a decade ago during the iconic vigodoro events. Through the creative interventions of DJs, MCs, and local talents, it fuses traditional coastal sounds like Vanga drums, Mchiriku, Segere, and Taarab synths into a hyper electronic rhythm.

The artist Vanessa Mwingira, captures the spirit of Singeli through raw, documentary-style photographs, celebrating the artists who embody this cultural movement. This exhibition is an invitation to the singeli world, experience its vibrancy, and recognise its role in shaping and inspiring a generation.

Opening for the Singeli Festival

We are excited to kick off the Singeli Festival celebrations with some of the biggest names in Singeli music.

Man Fongo, born Aman Hamisi Kibwagale, entered the music scene in 2006 as a DJ before making waves with his hit "Hainaga Ushemeji" in 2016, which solidified his place as a Singeli sensation both locally and internationally.

Wamoto Music (Fire Girls) is a powerful female group blending traditional Tanzanian music with the high-energy beats of Singeli. Raised under the Uswazi Born Talented program, Wamoto's sound and passion have made them a force to be reckoned with in Tanzania and beyond.

Dogo Elisha, born Elisha John Daffa, is known for his unique style, flow, and melodies in Singeli music. Starting his career at just 10 years old, he gained recognition with hits like "Pamela" and has performed at major festivals across Tanzania.

From the ever sprawling and bustling Dar Es Salaam Singeli scene, comes unique Mother and Daughter duo Rehema Tajiri and Queen Asher. Rehema Tajiri's career spawns over 20 years, first through the Tanzanian-Congolese rumba scene, as a singer and a dancer and a first album « Sumu Ya Ndoa » released in 2002. In 2005 she moved towards Zouk with « Ni wako Tu » which was praised by the BBC then joining a band before entering the Singeli scene at its height in 2017. Invited by Nyege Nyege Festival during a Singeli block party in 2018, she then made her first Boiler Room appearance at the festival in Uganda that same year, then playing throughout the region at Africa Nouveau in Nairobi, Sauti Za Busara in Zanaibar and One Love in Kigali.

Following the footsteps of her mom, Queen Asher decides to become the first singeli female DJ, changing the game in the scene, first as a DJ then as a producer making beats for her mom and developing a uniquely dangerous duo, premiering at Nyege Nyege in 2022, their energy and connection on stage has once again elevated singeli into a whole new dimension, combining Queen Asher's youthful explosiveness with Rehema Tajiri's experience and vocal power.
