

Our product development is too slow and expensive, delivers the wrong and too costly products with the wrong quality, made by unhealthy people

A non-adaptive organization will die