Systems design* is always from outside and towards the middle

Risk level for FS and CS
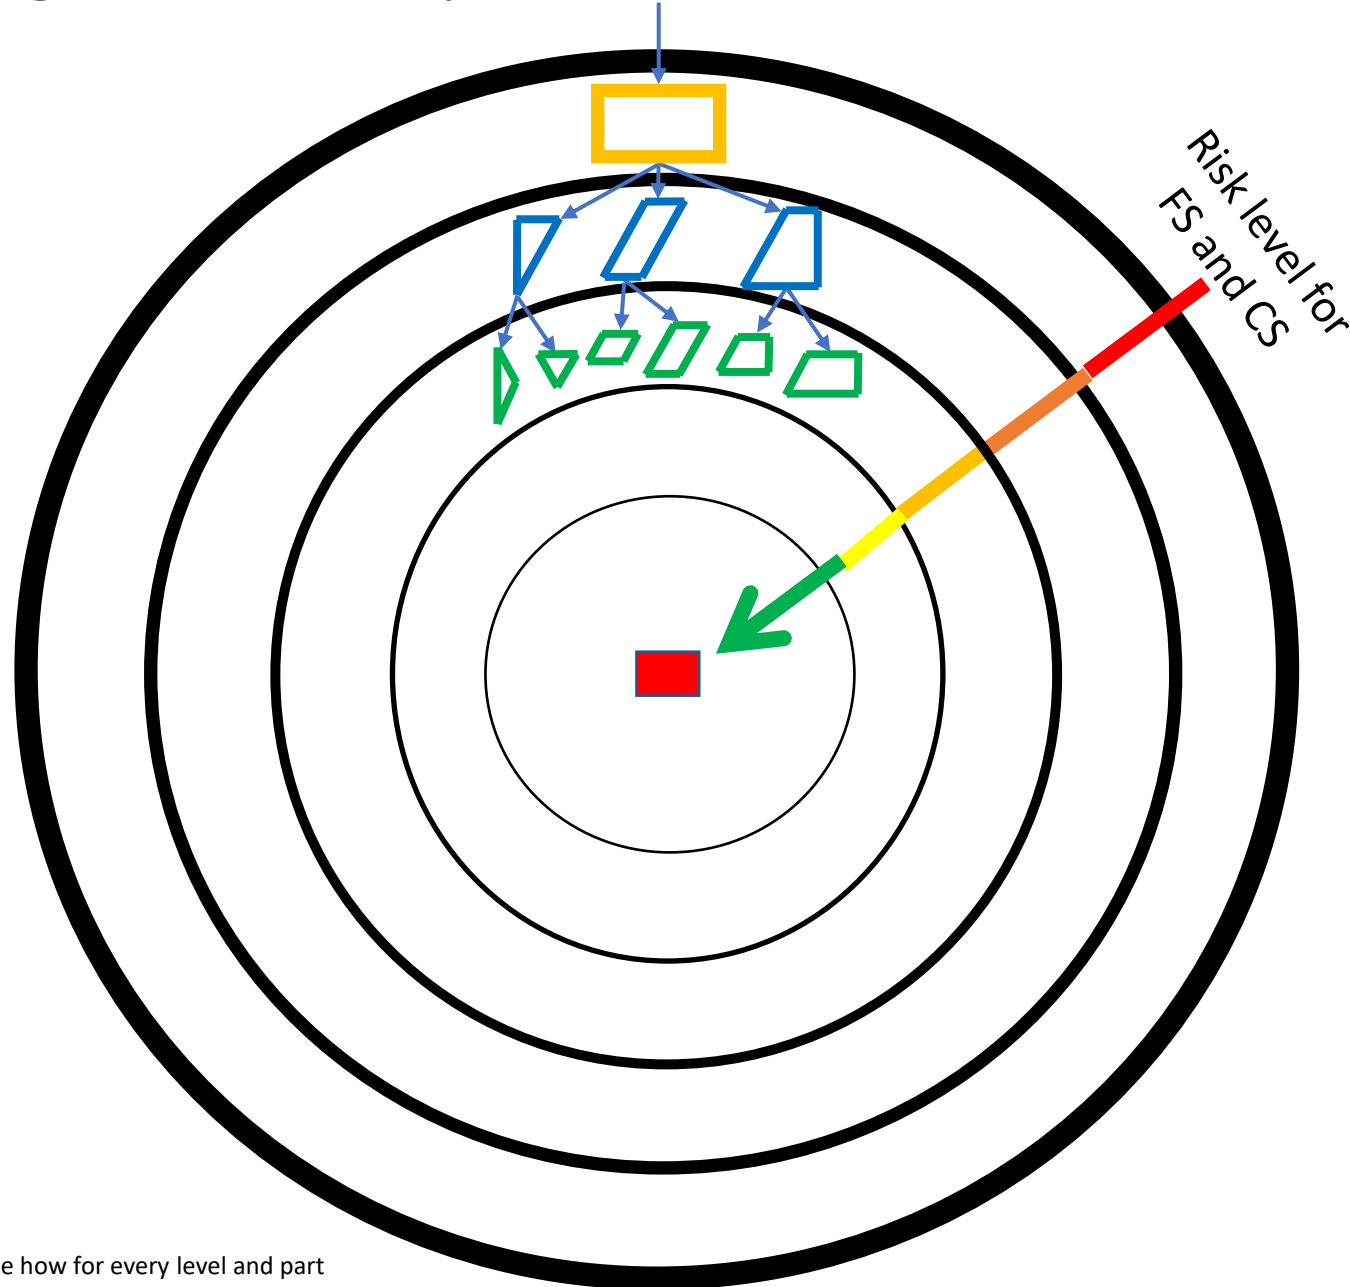

Functional and non-functional requirements (unique per part)

System architecture

Subsystem architecture

Sub-subsystem architecture

Protected object

Separator between the systems designs, as well as the requirement levels

*Systems design is always a new hypothesis, the how for every level and part