

Dear musictherapists,

i would like to point to our international courses in March, April and October 2017, which will be held in english.

We are going to start in March with a lecture from Mary Laqua and Sarah B. Johnson:

Subject: New Horizons in Music Therapy

From Psychosocial-based Music Therapy to Neurologic Music Therapy (NMT) - A Paradigm Shift. This lecture – given in English – will offer initial insight into the neuroscience-based model of music therapy developed in USA known as Neurologic Music Therapy (NMT). This research-based model consists of standardized clinical techniques, therapeutic mechanisms and creative interventions within three therapeutic domains: sensorimotor, speech and language, and cognition. The two presenters have extensive training and clinical expertise in the field of NMT specially in neurorehabilitation and geriatric nursing home care.

2 credit points approved by DMtG. 17FF200 · Saal · 10,- €. One evening · Fr. 10.3.2017, 20.00–21.30

On the following two days both speakers will offer a course:

Music as a Driving Force in Therapy

Developing your clinical skills within the framework of Neurologic Music Therapy (NMT). This weekend we will explore the theoretical background and clinical application of NMT-based techniques through video presentations with clients in neurorehabilitation and geriatric nursing home facilities. Several techniques will be demonstrated and practiced. Emphasis will be placed on the facilitating (driving) use of music in therapy and the role of the music therapist as musician, therapist and clinical scientist. How does the use of music and the application of therapeutic intervention techniques vary in this model, as compared to that of a psychotherapeutic approach? Through an in-depth examination of the development of NMT, its underlying concepts and intervention techniques, trained music therapists will be given the opportunity to reflect upon this question as well as their own clinical skills.

Minimum group size: 6 persons, 17FF201 · room 7 · 220,- €, weekend · Sa. 11.3.17 · 10.00–19.00 · Su. 12.3.17 · 10.00–14.30

In April,
we are going to continue with an additional qualification:

DrumPower» – Violence prevention, social Integration and empowerment through music, with Dr. Andreas Wölfel.

You can find detailed Informations in the attached flyer.

For qualified music therapists with recognized education only. Curriculum available on request. Minimum group size: 10 persons.

First seminar · Wed 19.04.17 · 6 pm – Sun 23.04.17 · 1 pm, Second seminar · Thu 02.11.17 · 10 am – Sun 05.11.17 · 1 pm,

Fee 960,- € (supervision excluded)

Booking via e-mail info@freies-musikzentrum.de or online by indicating seminar number: 17FF501

And last but not least we want to welcome you in October to the

4th International Symposium on Music Therapy and Adolescents Various Approaches in Different Contexts: Differentiation and Bridges

with speakers from all over the world: Dr. Philippa Derrington (Queen Margaret University, Edinbough, UK), Giulia Fedrigo (Verona, Italy), Évi Forgó Baer PhD (Switzerland), Prof. Dr. Viggo Krüger (University of Bergen, Norway), Prof. Dr. Katrina McFerran (University of Melbourne, Australia), Henrike Roisch (Institute of Music Therapy at Freies Musikzentrum, Germany), Dr. Suvi Saarikallio (University of Jyväskylä, Finland), Dr. Andreas Wölfel (Institute of Music Therapy at Freies Musikzentrum, Germany).

The Symposium includes lectures and discussions on Saturday (max. 120 participants) and practical workshops on Sunday (max. 70 participants).

Regular 140,- €, early booking (before April 30th) 110,- €

Reduced 123,- €, early booking (before April 30th) 97,- €

Saturday only 100,- €, early booking (before April 30th) 88,- €

Final registration date 30.9.2017. 9 credit points DMtG

17HF601 · Dr. Andreas Wölfl and international lecturers. Weekend · Sa. · 28.10. · 9:30–16:30 · Su. · 29.10. · 9:30–13:30

More information and registration for all courses on

<http://www.freies-musikzentrum.de> or via telephone: 089 - 41 42 47 - 0

office hours

Mo-Fr 10.30 bis 14.00 Uhr

Mo-Do 16.00 bis 18.00 Uhr

I am looking forward to welcome you at the Freies Musikzentrum München.

Silke Siebert

Fachbereichsleitung Musiktherapie am
Freien Musikzentrum München
Ismaninger Str. 29
81675 München