

My first interaction with Zsa Zsa Tudos happened more than 20 years ago, when I looked her up in her office to request her help in terms of solving a health issue. During the years she has become my mentor and one of my best friends. I regularly ask advice from her in terms of the different areas of life. One of these areas is the family and other relationships and partnership, as well. I have been living with my wife in a balanced partnership, but as it is obvious a good relationship also includes difficult times when the parties do not understand each other and an independent and well-trained "mediator" can support the parties to find the way of the understanding of the other one. Having learnt a lot from Zsa Zsa's relationship course, I can strongly recommend her and her courses to anybody.

I took Zsa Zsa's masterclass a few years back when I was in a new relationship. It successfully guided me through how to deepen the relationship, go beyond the surfaces and build trust. The techniques she showed me helped us get the relationship to the next level. She also gave invaluable advice about how to communicate with my partner more efficiently.

“Zsa Zsa’s coaching and teaching methods are greatly unconventional. Her classrooms embrace many popular approaches, such as neuroscientific, neuro-linguistic, wholistic and deeply spiritual, only because – as she puts it - they are logically related to human lives. She doesn’t give them names and she doesn’t put them into boxes. Learning with her is as if you’d taken several classes all at once. And the result is truly eye-opening.”

Hi, my name is Szabina, I am 32 years old and I am living in Nürenberg, Germany.

I was struggling with some issues in my personal and professional life, and Zsa Zsa's Masterclass helped me big time. Through her unique insight, she made me aware of approaches, that formerly escaped me, hence I became capable of creating a much better place for myself in and out of unity.

Thanks to Zsa Zsa by now I became a much more independent woman with a lot of confidence, which I never had before in my entire life. I don't have anxiety anymore, and I became the best friend of myself. My relationship is exciting and rewarding. I would definitely recommend her masterclass to those who want to have a better life.

“My wife and I, we went through a very bad patch after 12 years of a happy marriage. One day, we got up in the morning and looked at each other with a disturbing feeling that we lived with a stranger.

Intuitive Intimacy made us realise that our lives arrived at the comfortable point where we thought would start enjoying it without having challenges on our plates. But while we were travelling towards our goals, we didn't have the time to look at each other and assess our togetherness.

Hello, my name is Ilona and I am a sports manager and coach living in Singapore. I met ZsaZsa about 14 years ago in London UK and ever since then she has been my teacher, coach and mentor.

ZsaZsa supported me in many areas of my life, including career choices, self-development, relationships and generally to look at life from a different point of view.

Relationships are a very important part of our lives. ZsaZsa taught me that without emotions or showing emotions we are not even living at all. I had issues with commitment and showing my emotions in the past. During my time with ZsaZsa I learnt to understand my emotions, how to deal with them and to have the courage to show them even if I do not know what effect they will have.

I am now in a much better position. I am in a loving and caring romantic relationship, my relationship with my family is a lot clearer, I have great and trusting friends and my professional relationships are in place. Overall I am very happy right now. I know who I am and what I want from life.

Thank you ZsaZsa. My life would be very different without you!

I met Zsazsa about 12 years ago as she was an old friend of my husband. It is difficult to recall how our relationship have become unfolding, because I used to be a real skeptic, aloof and spacer person towards things that are new or unfamiliar to me. However, she could have made my mind open and taught me or showed me so many things I should learn.

Her straight, honest and unshielded way of communication have helped me several times in many fields of my life, especially in my relationships with my loved ones and with me myself. A long way behind and in front of me.

Her Masterclass about love relationships have opened new perspectives in my love, again. I have learned that preserving love and living in a happy partnership are not evident and we have to develop, work and fight for it, practically day by day.

I am thankful for her being my "lifeguide"!
