

COMPANY PROFILE

Indonesia's leading supplier of premium coconut products, renowned for our reliability and commitment to quality.

ABOUT US

Nutratropical which means nutritious products originating from tropical regions (PT Nutratropical Lancar Sejahtera) stands as Indonesia's premier supplier and distributor of coconut products. Our mission is to optimize agricultural yields to supply coconut products globally. Our core values—Integrity, Transparency, Quality, and Innovation & Collaboration—guide our operations.

We aspire to be the world's largest supplier of coconut products, with a long-term goal of diversifying into other agricultural products. Our commitment to quality production and rigorous quality control ensures our products are safe and hygienic. Our dedicated team works tirelessly to meet the high expectations of our customers, striving to achieve complete satisfaction for both our workers and clients.

Our Journey

Starting as a local supplier of coconut sugar in Indonesia, Nutratropical has steadily carved a significant niche within the local industry. Buoyed by our success and driven by ambition, we have set our sights on the global stage.

Recognizing the vast potential in the global market, we are poised to introduce our flagship product, coconut sugar, renowned for its natural sweetness and low glycemic index, to a broader audience worldwide.

Production Process

Over time, we have diversified into various coconut-derived products such as Desiccated Coconut and Virgin Coconut Oil. This innovation stems from the numerous benefits that coconut trees offer when processed correctly.

Join Nutratropical on our journey to redefine sweetness naturally and sustainably. Experience the richness of coconut-derived products crafted with passion, integrity and a commitment to excellence. Together, let's explore the boundless possibilities of the coconut tree and share its goodness with the world.
