

Our Story : A Journey from Indonesia's Natural Origins

Our journey begins in the lush, tropical landscapes of Indonesia, where nature's bounty is abundant. At haldinX, we are deeply rooted in these natural origins, leveraging Indonesia's rich biodiversity to produce exceptional coconut-based products.

Our commitment to sustainable and ethical sourcing is evident in every step of our process. We employ sustainable harvesting practices that not only preserve the environment but also maintain the natural flavor and quality of our coconut products.

Empowering Local Communities

haldinX is more than just a business, it is a community. We work closely with Indonesian farmers, empowering them through fair trade practices and providing opportunities for economic growth. By partnering with local communities, we ensure that our operations benefit both the people and the land.

Our efforts contribute to improving the livelihoods of these communities, fostering a sustainable future for generations to come.
