INTELLECT IS WHAT DEFINES KAYASTHAS

KKS QUARTERLY MAGAZINE

January 2023 to June 2023

(Two Quarters)

KARNATAKA KAYASTHA SAMAJ (KKS), Bengaluru

FROM THE PEN OF PRESIDENT

Dear Chitransh,

Greetings!

There is no greater joy nor greater reward than to make a fundamental difference in someone's life.

Our quarterly magazine – Kayastha Darpan serves as a platform to shed light on various activities being undertaken by your own KKS besides showcasing the creative work of members and their families. We always inspire collective action and are fortunate to have unconditional support from our esteemed members. As you are aware KKS has been serving the community and society as a whole, with support from our esteemed members, for quite some time now and is committed to making a difference. However, a lot more is to be done to work out solutions for the social challenges being faced by many in society.

As we navigate through the year 2023, we find ourselves in the midst of an ever-evolving landscape of social issues. We are grappling with a multitude of complex challenges. However, during these times of adversity, our unity and resilience shine brightest.

We wish to work on a few issues to help our members solve their problems. One pressing issue that demands our immediate attention is the mental health crisis gripping our communities. The struggle individuals, especially the younger generation, face is not always visible, but they are just as real and deserving of attention. By breaking the stigma surrounding mental health, providing accessible resources, and promoting a supportive environment, we can create a society that values and nurtures the well-being of every individual. Another pressing issue that demands our attention is the growing income gap between rich and poor within our communities. As we strive for progress, we must ensure that the benefits of development are shared equitably among all members of society. Let us continue to advocate for fair wages, and access to education and healthcare, and empower individuals with the right education and skills to overcome barriers to economic mobility.

We wish to start a service - KKS SALAHAKAR by forming a team of senior members having expertise and experience in the above areas, shortly to counsel interested members & families

We cannot overlook the importance of addressing systemic inequalities that persist in our society. Discrimination based on race, gender, religion, or any other factor hinders our progress toward a truly inclusive society. Let us work collectively to challenge prejudice and foster an environment that celebrates diversity, upholds equality, and ensures justice for all. In the face of these challenges, all of us need to put in tireless efforts for our society to make a positive impact. From volunteering to organizing KKS-driven initiatives, your compassion and dedication are beacons of hope. Together, we can drive meaningful change, foster empathy, and build a society that thrives on compassion, justice, and equality.

FROM THE PEN OF PRESIDENT (Contd.)

As we move forward, I encourage you to stay engaged, be open to diverse perspectives, and actively participate in KKS initiatives that seek to address these social issues. Let us continue to educate, empower, inspire, transform, and uplift one another, as together, we can create a future that we can be proud to leave behind for generations to come.

As you are aware we did not have in-person events for a long time initially due to Covid-19-related restrictions imposed by the government and then extremely bad weather conditions in Bangalore for a couple of months last year that forced us to remain inside for a long time. We announced a couple of in-person events including the AGM for FY 2022-23 but could not organize due to various unforeseen reasons. We had a couple of brainstorming sessions with EC members and concluded with the following challenges, we feel, our members may have, which attribute to their decreased involvement in KKS events:

- Ever-increasing commuting hassles in Bangalore both in terms of time and money.
- Presence of digital entertainment means including social media platforms and OTT for the latest movies that members can watch at leisure sitting at home.
- Reduced participation of the youngster due to their focus on other areas of interest including career goals, and openness in caste-related matters like being an Indian first rather than getting tied to any caste. Studies and work pressure are also adding to their restricted participation.
- Aging of members making them dependent on their children and lack of expertise in using apps like Uber, OLA, etc., and almost no expertise in other digital technologies
- Overall increased cost and value for time and money.

The KKS EC team encourages members to participate in KKS's forthcoming events and initiatives. We are looking forward to your support to regain our confidence in putting things together for in-person events.

Further, it gives me great pleasure to present the latest edition of KKS Quarterly Magazine – Kayastha Darpan for three quarters from January 2023 to October 2023 of Karnataka Kayastha Samaj (KKS). Please enjoy reading it and let us know your feedback ASAP so that we could improve it further. It is a platform that is being provided to members and their families to showcase their talent and inspire others.

“Gratitude makes sense of our past, brings peace for today, and creates a vision for tomorrow.” – Melody Beattie

Needless to say, we constantly require the support and blessings from our members who have guided us so well and are always there with us in times of need. We look forward to their continued guidance, support, and participation in our future initiatives. KKS continues to enjoy the status of being an exempted society under 80G of the Income Tax (IT) Act. Please donate generously towards relief to the poor and avail yourself of a tax exemption of 50% of the donated amount for the current financial year 2023-24.

With Regards

Animesh Bisaria

SCULPTING THE ABSTRACT

By Mrs. Toshi Prasad

Mind is an abstraction, emerging from the brain. The brain is defined into Id, Ego and Super-ego. According to Sigmund Freud, the Id is a component of an individual's personality that is entirely unconscious and involuntary. It includes the very basic, instinctive behaviour of an individual. The Id is also driven by the 'pleasure principle' which requires immediate appeasement or gratification of basic needs like hunger and thirst. Freud reiterates that the Ego develops from the Id and ensures that these basic or primitive instincts of man are presented to society in a much more palatable manner, within acceptable societal norms. The Ego hence operates on the 'reality principle' which endeavours to fulfil the Id's longings as per permissible social fabric and thus uses the theory of 'delayed gratification'. Finally, of primordial importance is the Super-ego which reflects the internalised moral standards already acquired from parents who are a part of the social fabric. Hence the Super Ego civilizes our responses to society. The proper balance between these three parts of the psycho-analytical structure of the brain, as suggested by Freud is of utmost necessity, as this leads to an adaptive personality. These three parts are dynamic and work in tandem with each other for greater efficiency and limberness in accommodating and adapting to societal nuances.

The Id thus catches the shimmering thoughts and images from the depths of the mind, Ego gives these images a pattern and the Super-ego gives these patterns a definitive construct.

Let us now deliberate upon these aspects differently. The normal ingredients of the mind are:

1. An ability to think and,
2. an awareness of the surroundings.

It also incorporates the ability to analyse and comprehend unity in diversity, thus paving the way for discernment and appreciation of beauty.

Mind also inculcates unto itself a sense of wisdom. Wisdom includes religiosity and an ethical sense of good and bad or a deep perception of righteousness.

In single acts of nature though, animals are superior to human beings. In social organisations, migratory birds seem to be deft and impeccable. They have an incredible record of landing at a particular place in a particular season according to their adaptability to the prevalent climatic conditions. Ants also depict skilled organisational abilities as they follow a straight line in pursuit of gratification of their needs. This is indicative of their adherence to social order and mannerisms.

On the other hand, monkeys seem to hug their dead babies till they turned skeletons; so in love for their offspring, some of the animals seem to obliterate the scientific foundation of reason or rationality but remain drenched with layers and layers of love, affection, camaraderie and communion. Despite such seething emotional, base and also sometimes rational behaviour of the animals, they are far inferior to human beings in acts of the mind.

SCULPTING THE ABSTRACT (Contd.)

By Mrs. Toshi Prasad

When an infant rolls up in this world, his mind is ‘Tabula Rasa’ – a clean slate that is ready to be written on. His mind eventually germinates and evolves in this world, planted and premised by the views and awareness that he gains out of living in a family. The development of his personality is a mere facade of happiness and composure at the very beginning as he receives unremitting and incessant warmth of love and support from his near and dear ones. This perpetual love beguiles the individual and makes him egocentric as his Ego is also being massaged ceaselessly in this process.

As the kid grows, his personality reels under societal pressures as he is torn between societal and individual demands and indulgences or appeasements. Through the educational process, the kid also learns to distinguish between good and bad. He learns to share and becomes a socio-centric individual and then adapts to societal pressures and pulls, thereby becoming a social animal.

Education augments rationality, and aesthetic awareness and inculcates a sense of reasoning. ID, Ego, and Super-ego are hence facilitated and incorporated through societal and educational prisms. Education is the orchestration of different paradigms of the mind and a complete, metrical synthesis of the three components of the mind – ID, Ego, and Super-ego. Hence aptly put by Sigmund Freud:

“The poor Ego has a still harder time of it; it has to serve three harsh masters, and it has to do its best to reconcile the claims and demands of all three..... The three tyrants are the external world, the super-ego, and the Id”

From the book - Analysis 1933.

Today we stand at the crossroads of the social fabric, where because of unrelenting information percolation, we are gradually moving towards the degradation of mental abilities. As TS Eliot says “Where is wisdom, we have lost in knowledge, where is knowledge, we have lost in information.” A slight chiseling of the mind is mandatory for proper education. Education today relies more on rote learning and mindless competition, which has stolen the sheen out of the rational educational approach.

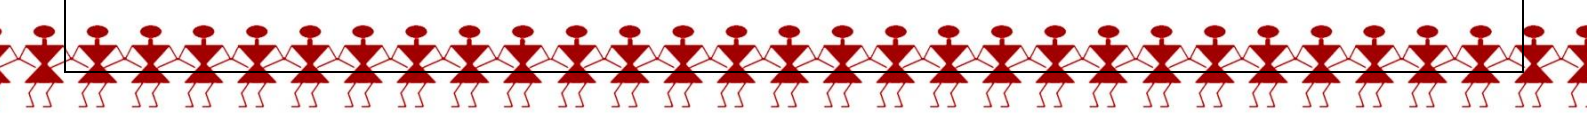

History is replete with examples of inventions that were created out of the sheer passion of individuals who wanted to alter the course of humanity, rather than the personal desire to excel amidst their peers.

A well-balanced learning hinges upon a quest for excellence through inquisitiveness, connecting the dots or pieces of information and repositioning them to create a knowledge base that relies not only on satiating one’s personal aspirations but also can be used for the greater good of society. Such a quest for knowledge not only stokes the ID, but also balances the Ego and the Super-ego, in harmony with the wisdom of mankind over any of the basal instincts.

A PEN PORTRAIT

By Mr. R K Sinha

Kali Kumar Sinha was the worthy son of a distinguished father who was no less a person than Hon'ble Rai Bahadur Gajadhar Prasad, Member, Bengal Legislative Council, President, All India Kayastha Conference (1892), President, All India Kayastha Sadar Sabha (for 17 years), and one of the best cross-examiners that Bihar has ever seen. Gajadhar Prasad was a lawyer of great eminence and he was helpful in establishing Patna Law College along with other eminent lawyers of Patna such as Govind Chandra Mishra, Radha Kesto Bhattacharya, and some others.

Kali Kumar Sinha, as the past whispers, was a professor at Patna Law College in the second decade of the twentieth century. In the beginning, he was the sole in charge of leadership classes; thereafter he was drafted into the Law College, when the College was in its infancy, learning to toddle during the regime of Babu Atma Ram.

Sinha was also one of the pioneer journalists in Bihar having started two dailies, 'The Bihar Guardian' and 'The Biharee'. Having embarked upon a journalistic career, he bestrode the province of Bihar like a colossus. He opposed the partition of Bengal both as a lawyer and as a journalist. The partition of Bengal would issue in fissiparous tendencies, culminating in an alignment of centrifugal forces in the country. With the advantage of hindsight now, his seems to be a reasoned as well as a more mature vision. But neither Law nor journalism could contain his spirit and he cut across their frontiers and tried his hand at penmanship. Here he found the fruition of his vision. He was a born genius, and a novel, The Star of Sikri (1893) flowed from his facile pen while he was a 3rd year student.

The book evoked the admiration of Professor James of Patna College. G.P. Sarma comments on The Star of Sikri as 'the first Indo-Anglian social novel with a reformatory purpose'. In this novel, Sinha writes about the social evils arising out of unwilling marriages. The story is about a beautiful girl Rajani Kumari of Sikri, a village town in Bihar, who is given away in marriage when she is only eleven. But Gopal Kishen, the bridegroom, is not her choice. So, the girl refuses to consent to her Gauna (final marriage after the attainment of puberty). G.P. Sarma remarks: 'The author intends to show through this how the father's approach to the problem was wrong, and how this wrong approach of the parents in the Hindu Society to the marriages of their sons and daughters invites trouble'. Sinha explicitly expresses his disapproval of such parental notions. He says: 'The girl is yoked to a rich man, without any consideration of her feelings towards him'.

G.P. Sarma claims to have brought to light Sanjogita for the first time in his book on 'Nationalism in Indo-Anglian Fiction'.

A PEN PORTRAIT (Contd.)

By Mr. R K Sinha

Sanjogita is based on the familiar story of Sanjogita, the daughter of King Jey Chand. In the preface, the author discloses his objectives. While writing the preface in the third person, Sinha says: 'The author has made an attempt to describe... the India of the Pre-Mohammedan period—India on the eve of the Mohammedan conquest, to remind his countrymen of the glory and greatness of their ancestors, to draw their attention to the direct causes of their fall, to show up the glaring evils of disunion'. After a perusal of the novel, it can be asserted that there are two concerns that emerge powerfully. (i) Quest of the past heritage (ii) championing the cause of freedom. The pride in the past has a tinge of national self-assertion. Both concerns seem interwoven. It is a search for identity, a reassertion of one's being in the context of one's nation. It is an individual's rebellion against the claustrophobic sense of slavery and an endeavour at opening up new vistas of freedom.

In the novel, the author's urge for unity between Hindus and Muslims is his prescription for fighting a united battle for freedom. G.P. Sarmia refers to the same in a similar vein, pointing to what Sinha writes in the preface: "His expression of respect for 'the dead ashes of the Hindu warriors and the calcined bones of Mohammedan soldiers' in the same breath, and his lamentation for the degradation of the spiritual sons of Aryavarta and the remarkable fall of the devoted followers of the godly prophet of Arabia' in the same breath again, show clearly how to the author in 1903, both the Hindus and the Muslims of India were equally Indian Nationals and formed one Nation." Thus, the author asserts "In union lies our salvation-union between Indians themselves.

Sinha locates the novel on the eve of the Mohammedan conquest of India with a view to showing the faults of the Indians because of which the foreigners could continue invading India. A similar situation had obtained when the Britishers penetrated into India. In fact, the author intended to rouse the Indians to fight a battle against the British and free India from foreign yoke. In Sanjogita ' we see the handling of History for the nationalistic purpose for the first time in the history of Indo-Anglian fiction. But this was not all. He was the author of several books including one on Hindu Law and was a fine gifted orator in English, which he had inherited from his father, and which he passed on to his son, B.K. Sinha, Principal of Patna Law College and Chotanagpur Law College and Treasurer and Acting Vice-Chancellor of Bhagalpur University. B.K. Sinha's forte was humor. His was a very pleasing personality, always immaculately dressed, injuring the arrogant with his ready wit and sharp witticism but endearing himself amicably well with the high and the low in equal measure. In the American Express, a daily newspaper published in England, an exclusive article was published on him captioned The Charlie Chaplin of India. His death in 1978 brought in a void or a vacuum in the cultural life of Bihar He was a fine orator, a humorist, a connoisseur par excellence.

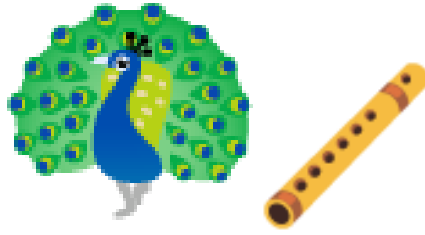

His is a family which has served the state and the nation for generations, in various fields such as law, education, administration, police, and the Army.

ETERNAL HAPPINESS

By Mr. Rai Sachindra Bahadur

Every 'Chetan' in the universe has consciousness within and is sensitive to feelings. 'Urge for Happiness' becomes the purpose of living. The 'pursuit of happiness' that depends on the satisfaction of pain out of Kaam, Krodh, Lobh, Moha, Ahankar, and Irsya terminates in a transient elusive accolade. Once the derived satisfaction is reached, happiness plateaus. Stretching beyond precipitates pain. The joy we enjoy to a limit and soon miss happiness.

Eternal Happiness cannot be acquired. Eternal Happiness is not about having but about Being. You feel happy because you are happy and not because you have labored for tangible reasons and selfish purposes. True happiness comes with peace within an equilibrium with the environment. Eternal happiness is not in having but in giving. Eternal Happiness is not in attachment but in detachment. Eternal happiness diffuses and infects surround, around, and beyond.

If the aim is, "I want happiness", the two things that need to be deleted are 'I' and 'Want,' what remains is Happiness.

Na me dwesha raghou na me lobha mohou
Madho naiva me naiva matsarya bhava

Na dharmo na cha artha na kamo na moksha
Chidananada Roopa Shivoam, Shivoam

Eternal Happiness is Eternal Bliss of Eternal Divinity, An Eternal Blessing of Eternal Divine.

ऐ ! जिंदगी

By डॉ उषा श्रीवास्तव

ऐ!! जिंदगी क्या कहूं?
बहुत दिया तूने मुझे,
उसका धन्यवाद करूँ ,
या शिकायत जो असमय छीन लिया।।

पर जब पड़ती है निगाह,
जीवन के अतीत-वर्तमान पर,
तो लगता है शिकायत ठीक नहीं।
तकलीफों ने बहुत कुछ सिखाया,
मजबूत बनाया, सामना करने का हौसला भी दिया।।

बिना कष्ट के सुख का मज़ा नहीं,
जीवन फूलों की बगिया नहीं,
फूल कांटे साथ-साथ बढ़ते खिलते अच्छे लगते हैं।
एक के बिना दूसरे का महत्व नहीं है।।

"जिंदगी" तूने जो दिया उसका धन्यवाद,
जो नहीं उसका भी शुक्रिया।
बस, चाह यही बची-खुची,
जिंदगी हंस कर गुजार लूँ,
हो सके तो, किसी का जीवन संवार दूँ,
कम से कम किसी चेहरे को,
मुस्कान उधार दूँ।।

जिंदगी जीने का हौसला,
गम सहने की ताकत,
और नेक सलाह दूँ।
देना ईश्वर मुझे ताकत ,
जो कुछ और जितना भी सम्भव हो,
कुछ अच्छा करूँ, कुछ भला करूँ ।

NETFLIX'S EVOLVING COMPETITIVE LANDSCAPE

By Mr. Kumar Gaurav

Let me start by quoting Peter Drucker the management consultant “Whenever you see a successful business, someone once made a courageous decision.” Netflix is a well-known example of a company that has undergone a successful digital transformation. Having started as a DVD rental service and has since evolved into one of the world's leading providers of streaming video content. This kind of transition is remarkable, to say the least. How did it happen?

We understand Netflix's transformation was driven by many factors. Let us understand it better. The first point that comes to my mind is the changing media landscape, the rise of online streaming, and the need to better compete with established players in the entertainment industry. To stay ahead of the curve, Netflix embraced digital technologies and transformed its business model in several ways, including:

Personalization: Netflix leverages data and algorithms to provide personalized recommendations to its customers. By analyzing user behavior, preferences, and viewing history, the company delivers content that is tailored to each user's interests and preferences. Netflix is a well-known example of how personalization can be used to enhance the customer experience. The company uses personalization algorithms to provide each of its customers with a customized viewing experience. Netflix collects data on its users' viewing habits and preferences, such as what they have watched in the past, what they have rated, and what they have added to their watchlist.

(Contd.)

By Mr. Gaurav Kumar

Using this data, Netflix's algorithms generate personalized recommendations for each user, helping them discover new content that they may enjoy. It improves the customer experience but also helps Netflix to retain its customers and increase engagement. By providing a more relevant and enjoyable viewing experience, Netflix creates a niche for itself. With the help of personalization, Netflix optimizes its content offering and increases its efficiency. By understanding what content is popular and what is not, Netflix can make better decisions about what content to produce, acquire, or promote. Overall, personalization has been a key driver of Netflix's success, and the company's use of personalization is a great example of how companies can leverage data and technology to improve the customer experience and drive growth.

Content creation: Netflix has shifted its focus from acquiring content to producing original content. The company has invested heavily in the production of its own series, films, and documentaries, giving it a unique and differentiated offering in the market. Netflix's focus on content creation is a key aspect of its digital transformation. The company has shifted its strategy from acquiring content to producing original content, which has helped it to differentiate itself from its competitors and provide a unique viewing experience for its customers. By producing original content, Netflix attracts new customers, retains existing ones, and generates more revenue through subscriptions and licensing. In addition, Netflix's focus on content creation has allowed it to reach new audiences and expand its global reach. The company's original content is available in multiple languages and is designed to appeal to a wide variety of cultures and tastes.

Localized content: Netflix has made its content available in multiple languages and has produced original content that is designed to appeal to a wide variety of cultures and tastes.

User experience: Netflix has made it easy for users to access its content, regardless of their location. The company has a simple and intuitive user interface that can be accessed on a wide range of devices, including smart TVs, gaming consoles, and mobile devices.

Data privacy: Netflix has taken steps to protect the privacy of its users, regardless of their location. The company complies with local privacy regulations and has implemented security measures to protect user data.

Technical support: Netflix provides technical support to its customers, 24/7. The company has a dedicated support team that is available to answer questions and resolve any technical issues customers may have.

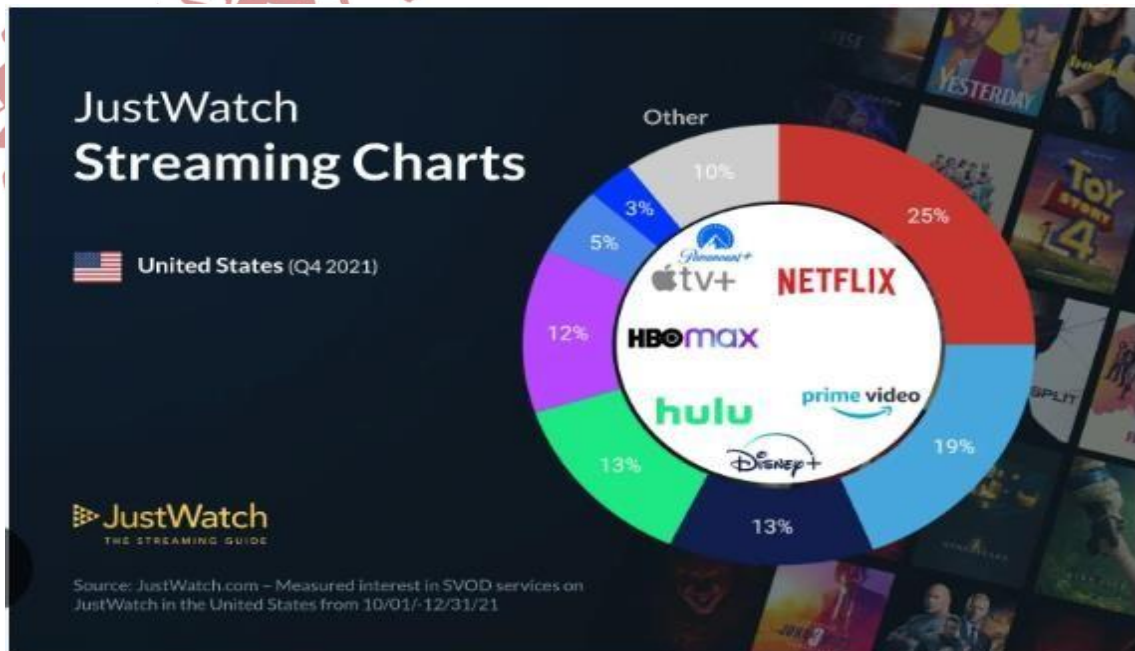

“Risk-taking is the cornerstone of empires.”. Here I quote Estée Lauder, a co-founder of Estée Lauder. Reed Hastings and Marc Randolph’s focus on customer experience has been a key driver of its success and has allowed the company to create a loyal customer base and retain its customers over the long term. The company's focus on personalization, user interface, content availability, and technical support serves as a great example of how companies can leverage digital technologies to improve the customer experience and drive growth.

By Mr. Kumar Gaurav

Competition: Netflix has faced intense competition from other streaming video providers, including Amazon Prime Video, Disney+, and Hulu. The competitive landscape has made it difficult for Netflix to retain its market share and attract new customers.

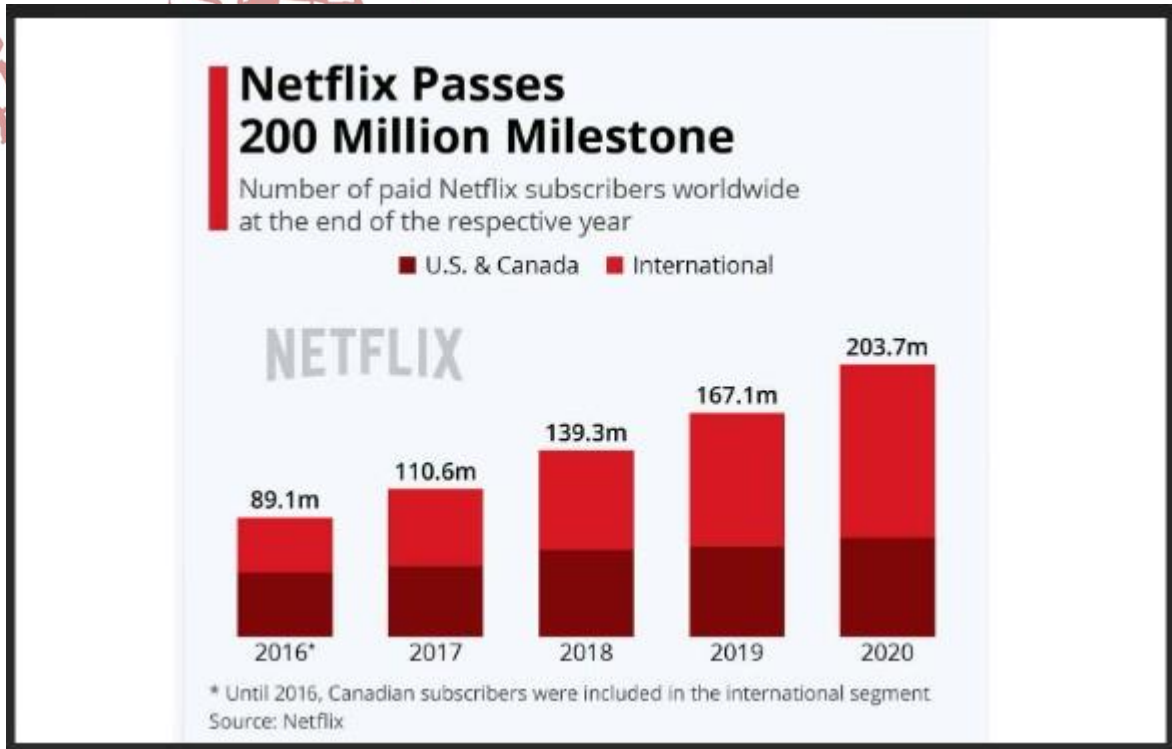

Content creation: Netflix has invested heavily in content creation, but the high cost of producing original content has become a major challenge for the company. The company needs to continue producing high-quality content to retain its customers and attract new subscribers.

Intellectual property rights: Netflix has faced challenges with acquiring and licensing the rights to content from other producers and studios. The company needs to strike the right balance between acquiring popular content and controlling costs.

By Mr. Kumar Gaurav

Global expansion: As Netflix expands into new markets, the company faces challenges with local regulations and cultural differences. The company needs to navigate these challenges to be successful in these markets.

Customer data privacy: Netflix has faced challenges with protecting its customers' data and viewing habits. The company needs to maintain the trust of its customers by protecting their data and complying with privacy regulations.

Despite these challenges, Netflix has continued to grow and evolve, leveraging digital technologies and data-driven insights to overcome these problems and drive its business forward. The company's ability to navigate these challenges and continue to evolve serves as a great example of the importance of digital transformation for businesses in today's fast-paced digital landscape.

THE BATTLE OF THE TITANS

A Comedy of Errors Between Project Management and Quality Assurance

By Mr. Kumar Gaurav

Once upon a time, in the eccentric realm of Madz Global Technologies Industries, two mighty departments clashed in a never-ending struggle for supremacy: the legendary Project Management Titans and the illustrious Quality Assurance Magicians. These two forces, each believing their domain was the key to the company's success, embarked on a hilarious journey filled with mishaps, misunderstandings, and a healthy dose of absurdity.

In the left corner of the company's headquarters, the Project Management Titans, led by the charismatic and overly ambitious D'Costa, were armed with Gantt charts, timelines, and a never-ending hunger for project completion. Their motto was simple: "Deadlines above all!" On the right corner, under the enchanting leadership of the meticulous yet slightly eccentric Ms. Madz O'Brian, the Quality Assurance Magicians waved their wands of thorough inspections, intricate checklists, and nitpicky precision. Their mantra echoed through the halls: "Perfection or bust!"

With their contrasting philosophies and priorities, it was no surprise that chaos ensued whenever these two departments crossed paths. The Project Management Titans would set aggressive deadlines, fueled by their desire to conquer the market, while the Quality Assurance Magicians would painstakingly examine every product, searching for the tiniest flaw, much to the dismay of their impatient counterparts.

One fateful day, during a company-wide meeting, the CEO, Mr. Chinua, had an epiphany. Tired of the perpetual tug-of-war between these warring factions, he decided it was time to bring some humor into the situation. He called for a grand battle, a friendly competition that would force the Project Management Titans and the Quality Assurance Magicians to collaborate in a comical way.

The challenge was simple: each team had to switch roles for a month. The Project Management Titans would become Quality Assurance Magicians and the Quality Assurance Magicians would assume the mantle of Project Management Titans.

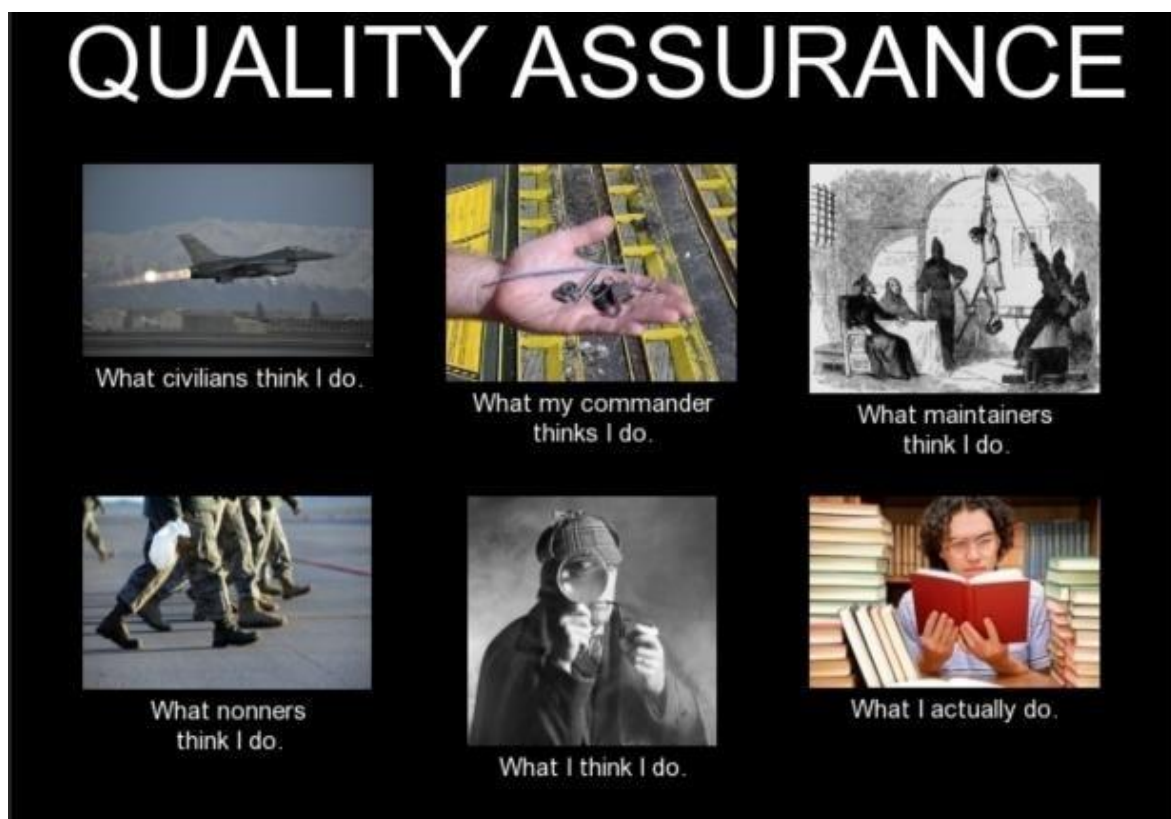

Laughter filled the air as both teams reluctantly accepted the absurd proposition. As the hilarious spectacle began, chaos reigned supreme. The former Project Management Titans, now donning the robes of the Quality Assurance Magicians, scrutinized every minute detail of the projects, from the color of the stapler to the alignment of the company logo on the documents. Their meticulousness knew no bounds, driving their former teammates to the brink of madness.

THE BATTLE OF THE TITANS

A Comedy of Errors Between Project Management and Quality Assurance (Contd.)

By Mr. Kumar Gaurav

Meanwhile, the former Quality Assurance Magicians, now sporting the armor of the Project Management Titans, found themselves immersed in a world of deadlines, resource allocation, and project planning. They attempted to juggle a hundred tasks at once, often forgetting crucial details, misplacing important documents, and causing uproarious confusion in the process. The office became a theater of absurdity. D'Costa, now a Quality Assurance Magician, spent hours inspecting every pixel of a presentation slide, while Ms. Madz O'Brian, in her new role as a Project Management Titan, accidentally scheduled a meeting on the rooftop, causing her team to scramble to find a way up.

But amidst the chaos, a peculiar thing began to happen. The Project Management Titans gained a newfound appreciation for the meticulousness and attention to detail required in the realm of quality assurance. The Quality Assurance Magicians, on the other hand, discovered the challenges of juggling multiple projects, budgets, and deadlines. They realized that a delicate balance was needed, where both precision and efficiency could coexist.

As the month ended, the former adversaries, now united by their shared experiences, gathered for a grand finale. Mr. Chinua applauded their efforts and presented them with certificates of appreciation, commending their ability to see the humor in their own quirks and adapt to unfamiliar roles.

THE BATTLE OF THE TITANS

A Comedy of Errors Between Project Management and Quality Assurance (Contd.)

By Mr. Kumar Gaurav

From that day forward, a sense of camaraderie enveloped Madz Global Technologies Industries. The Project Management Titans and the Quality Assurance Magicians, having walked a mile in each other's shoes, began collaborating in a way that surpassed all expectations. They found humor in their mistakes, celebrated their unique strengths, and embraced the idea that success lay not in one department's triumph but in the seamless harmony between them.

In the end, Madz Global Technologies Industries became known not only for its groundbreaking technology but also for its infectious laughter and comical tales of the Battle of the Titans. The company thrived as the Project Management Titans and the Quality Assurance Magicians, once adversaries, now worked hand in hand, ensuring the highest quality products were delivered on time, with a sprinkle of humor and a touch of absurdity.

And so, in the annals of corporate history, the Battle of the Titans remained as a reminder that even in the most serious of endeavors, a little laughter and a willingness to embrace the comical can transform clashes into collaborations, and adversaries into allies.

REVISIT KARNATAKA TOURISM POLICY

By Mr. A K Varma

Revisit Karnataka tourism policy

A K VARMA

Karnataka boasts abundant natural resources, UNESCO world heritage sites, and remarkable architectural marvels. It is revered as the 'Cradle of Stone Architecture'. With its pleasant climate, welcoming locals, authentic cuisine, accessibility and connectivity, rich culture, and spirit of camaraderie, Karnataka has all the elements to be a must-visit destination in the subcontinent. Moreover, it has already established Bengaluru's reputation as the IT capital of India.

Presently, the state's share in domestic tourism is just 12%, behind Tamil Nadu (17.02%), Uttar Pradesh (16.19%), and Andhra Pradesh (13.77%). Tourism is a significant GDP driver (around 8%). In 2019, Karnataka's tourism sector contributed 14.8% of the state's gross state domestic product (GSDP) and provided over 30 lakh jobs. This compares well with the overall figure for India (around 6.2%).

While southern Karnataka is a well-known tourist hub, the northern Karnataka districts—Dharwad, Belgaum, Vijayapura, Bagalkot, Uttara Kannada, Haveri, Kalburgi, and Bidar—also have potential for development. The state has seen improvements in its infrastructure, road networks, healthcare, educational institutions, etc. With the opening of the T2 terminal in Bengaluru, the new airport in Kalburgi, and the upgrades of Mysuru, Hubballi, and Belagavi airports, the accessibility of the region has increased manifold. Similarly, the proposed airports in Shivamogga and Vijayapura would further open Karnataka. Coorg and Chikmagalur have already emerged as new hill destinations, drawing hordes of visitors from all over India.

Belgaum is situated on the periphery of the Western Ghats, surrounded by shrub jungles, grasslands, and forests. Dharwad is uniquely situated in the Eco-Tone Belt, which stretches from Belgaum to Ranebennur. Varied ecosystems like the Western Ghats forests, scrub-jungles, ponds, and grassland ecosystems merge into one another and form a unique geographical location comprising several districts of the North Karnataka region. Vijayapura and Bagalkot are well known for historical monuments, and the region has heritage sites such as Aihole, Badami, Pattadakal, and Bijapur's Golgumbaz. The area also produces some of the best wines.

Uttara Kannada district is rich in several respects: tropical, evergreen, and deciduous forests; ancient rivers like Aghanashini, Kali, Gangavali, and Sharavati; virgin beaches along the West Coast; and numerous historical and religious monuments, temples, and forts overlooking the rivers, beaches, forests, and wildlife. They are all areas waiting to be developed.

The Hampi heritage site and the evergreen forests of Uttara Kannada district are all within a reachable distance of a few hours from Hubballi, Dharwad, Belgaum, Goa, and Maharashtra. Some of the best-known tiger reserves, wild life sanctuaries, national parks, and bird sanctuaries are situated in the above region, which is also known for whitewater rafting.

In short, Karnataka must consider developing its districts with a special focus on tourism—eco, cultural, adventure, hospitality, health, wine, and study tourism.

To increase the share of tourism in the state's economy, Karnataka must make policy changes to declare tourism an industry and develop infrastructure, including affordable travel and stay facilities, with the government and the private sector working together. The existing facilities on tourist circuits should be given a complete makeover. Developing roadside amenities in important destinations should be a priority.

The tourism sector, being a long-term investment proposition, would need the full participation of all stakeholders. An independent tourism development board should be established to chalk out a long-term strategy to attract visitors, both domestic and foreign. Standards and certification aspects must be brought into the system for visitor satisfaction as well as for ensuring quality of services and overall sustainability.

A new vision and new strategy are needed to realise the true potential of tourism in Karnataka.

Migrating from UP, his family settled in Delhi post-independence. Mr. Rawar started his work life in a British-based company, John Fleming & Co., in Delhi. A true workaholic, he went on to open and operate companies ranging in a wide spectrum of businesses – interior designing, painting turnkey projects, furniture manufacturing, and hospitality. He never believed in the concept of 'retirement' and worked relentlessly till the end to puppet many ventures.

She also volunteered in The Family Planning Association of India and was later the President of the Association as well as a member of the mentoring committee. They formed KKS (Karnataka Kayastha Sabha) with the idea to bring together the Kayastha community, to create a place for families to connect and grow together. Celebrating our festivals & keeping our heritage alive. Ever enthusiastic, even after retiring she continued to volunteer at VIDYA, an NGO engaged in the empowerment of children, youth, and adults through education. She also joined hands with other community members to set up & run the waste segregation & recycling in her neighborhood. At 60, she dipped her toes into the world of painting and continued to paint even when most other people would choose to put up their feet & live a retired life. Mrs. Mathur was an immensely creative person and her home always looked like it had come out of an 'Interiors' magazine. She was always welcoming and often invited people over for her amazing cooking. She was gentle and elegant, yet persistent, getting all her work done with dogged determination. Mrs. Mathur was a pillar of support for all her family and friends, helping them through difficult situations. She touched the lives of everyone she came into contact with. ## कायस्थ कोई जाति नहीं बल्कि संपूर्ण नेतृत्व है

क्षत्रिय होते हुए खुद को कायस्थ स्वीकारने की भूल से ऊपर उठे चित्रांश

वास्तव में श्री चित्रगुप्त का जन्म संपूर्ण मानव जाति को नेतृत्व प्रदान करने के लिए ही हुआ था जैसा की शास्त्रों में कहा गया है कि श्री ब्रह्मा ने चार वर्ण बनाया 'ब्राह्मण, क्षत्रीय, वैश्य, शूद्र' तब यमराज ने ब्रह्मा जी से मानवी का विवरण एवं उनके दिशा निर्देश का नेतृत्व रखने के लिए सहायता मांगी। तत्पश्चात् ब्रह्मा जी 11000 वर्षों के लिए ध्यान साधना में लीन हो गए और साधना संपन्न होने बाद जब उन्होंने अपनी आंखें खोली तो एक शावला रंग का पुरुष को अपने सामने एक हाथ में कलम दवात दूसरे हाथ में पुस्तक तथा कमर में तलवार बोधे पाया तब ब्रह्मा जी ने कहा, 'हे पुरुष तू मेरे कलम से उत्पन्न हुए हो और जैसा की तू मेरे चोत (शरीर) में गुप्त रूप से आए हो इसीलिए तुम्हें चित्रगुप्त नामक महान शक्तिमान मानव रक्षक क्षत्रीय के रूप में जाना जाएगा एवं प्यार से तुम्हें कायस्थ नाम से भी पुकारा जाएगा।

अनंदा बहारी

इस प्रकार यह साबित होता है कि इन चार वर्णों मल्लख संपूर्ण मानव समुदाय को दिशा निर्देश तथा उनकी रक्षा हेतु एवं उनके संपूर्ण मार्गदर्शन एवं नेतृत्व हेतु श्री चित्रगुप्त का जन्म हुआ एवं इस प्रकार यमराज के मांग को श्री ब्रह्मा जी ने मानव कल्याण हेतु पूरा किया।

चुकी उनका जन्म ब्रह्मा के काय (शरीर) से हुआ इसी लिए देवताओं ने उन्हें प्यार से कायस्थ कहकर पुकारने लगे न कि कायस्थ उनको जाति थी जैसे कुली पुत्रों को कौलेय कहा गया, भीष्म पितामह गांगेय कहा गया ठीक उसी प्रकार श्री चित्रगुप्त को कायस्थ कहा गया।

लिए ही हुई है, इसीलिए जन्म से ही श्री चित्रगुप्त के हाथ में कलम दवात एवं पुस्तक थी तथा कमर में तलवार थी और उनका स्थान स्वर्ग में संपूर्ण सृष्टि के न्यायधीश तथा धर्मराज के रूप में दी गई। कई पुराणों के अनुसार श्री चित्रगुप्त महाराज जो के दो विवाह हुए थे पहली पत्नी सर्यदक्षिना नंदिनी जो सूर्य के पुत्र श्राद्ध देव की कन्या थी और दूसरी पत्नी एरावती शोभावती

धर्म शर्मा जो नागवंशी क्षत्रीय की कन्या थी। इन सभी बातों से ज्ञात होता है कि चित्रगुप्त के संतानों की जाती महाशक्तिमान क्षत्रीय है न कि कायस्थ, कायस्थ तो देवतागण प्यार से चित्रगुप्त को काता करते थे। पुराणों के अनुसार जो माना जाता है कि कायस्थ एक

उच्च क्षत्रीय श्रेणी की जाती है धरती पर रहने वाले स्वर्ग हिन्दू चित्रगुप्त वंशी क्षत्रीय को ही कायस्थ कहा जाता है। संपूर्ण मानव समुदाय के लिए प्रेम, ज्ञान, कल्याण और शौर्य से परिपूर्ण उस मानव संस्कृति को स्थापना हेतु उत्पन्न हुए श्री चित्रगुप्त के ही वंशजों ने हिंदुस्तान में शासन किया, एक समय था जब आपसे अधिक अखंड भारत पर कायस्थों का शासन था जैसे कश्मीर में तुलुष वर्धन कायस्थ राजवंश, गुजरात में बल्लभी कायस्थ राजवंश, काबुल एवं पंजाब में जयपाल कायस्थ राजवंश दक्षिण में चालुक्य कायस्थ राजवंश उत्तर भारत में देवघल गौड़ कायस्थ राजवंश, मध्य भारत में सतवाहन कायस्थ राजवंश सत्ता में रहे हैं।

इस प्रकार स्वर्ग के न्यायधीश एवं धर्मधर्म को जानने वाले धर्मराज श्री चित्रगुप्त ने अपने पुत्रों को पृथ्वी पर भेजा और उन्हें धर्म साधना की शिक्षा दी और कहा 'रहे पुत्रों आप सभी तीनों लोकों के हित के लिए यत्न करना और उनके धर्म की रक्षा करना तथा संपूर्ण मानव के सर्वांगीण विकास हेतु उनका मार्गदर्शन करना तथा महाशक्तिमान क्षत्रीय के भाति उनकी रक्षा भी करना'।

यह कहकर वे स्वर्ग को चले गए और उन्हें वहां

शास्त्रों में कहा गया है कि श्री ब्रह्मा ने चार वर्ण बनाया 'ब्राह्मण, क्षत्रीय, वैश्य, शूद्र' तब यमराज ने ब्रह्मा जी से मानवी का विवरण एवं उनके दिशा निर्देश का नेतृत्व रखने के लिए सहायता मांगी। तत्पश्चात् ब्रह्मा जी 11000 वर्षों के लिए ध्यान साधना में लीन हो गए और साधना संपन्न होने बाद जब उन्होंने अपनी आंखें खोली तो एक शावला रंग का पुरुष को अपने सामने एक हाथ में कलम दवात दूसरे हाथ में पुस्तक तथा कमर में तलवार बोधे पाया तब ब्रह्मा जी ने कहा, 'हे पुरुष तू मेरे कलम से उत्पन्न हुए हो और जैसा की तू मेरे चोत (शरीर) में गुप्त रूप से आए हो इसीलिए तुम्हें चित्रगुप्त नामक महान शक्तिमान मानव रक्षक क्षत्रीय के रूप में जाना जाएगा एवं प्यार से तुम्हें कायस्थ नाम से भी पुकारा जाएगा।

न्यायधीश के पद पर सुशोभित किया गया और स्वर्ग में जाकर श्री चित्रगुप्त जी धर्मराज के अधिकार में स्थित हुए। किन्तु 'आज राजनैतिक हित, स्वायत्त एवं इस सामाजिक ताकत में निजी मतभेदों या किसी भी प्रकार के कारकों से इस गौरवशाली इतिहास को कभी भी भूलना नहीं चाहिए, भले ही इस गौरवशाली इतिहास एवं उनपर पदां डालने का पड़यंत्र जोड़ी पर है।'

जैसे आज चित्रगुप्तों को समाज में लाला कहकर दीन हीन एवं कमजोर समाज के रूप में देखने की प्रवृत्ति चल रही है यह भी एक नकारात्मक सोच है जबकि पूर्वोक्त में श्री चित्रगुप्त के वंशजों को प्यार एवं दुलार से लल्ला या लाला कहा जाता था लेकिन लोग इस शब्द को कमजोर समाज के रूप में देखने लगे जबकि यह सभी जानते हैं कि र राम लल्ला र भी भगवान को कहा जाता है यह तो एक प्रेम और पुकार की भाषा है। किन्तु लोग इसका मतलब नकारात्मक ढंग से निकातलने लगते हैं यह बड़ा दुर्भाग्यपूर्ण बात है।

अतः श्री चित्रगुप्त जिस कार्य से स्वर्ग में धर्मराज के रूप में स्थापित किए गए और पृथ्वी पर संपूर्ण मानवी के मार्गदर्शन तथा उनकी रक्षा हेतु अपने संतानों को भेजा और कहा कि र महाशक्तिमान क्षत्रीय धर्म का पालन करो र। श्री चित्रगुप्त के संतानों को इस बात को याद रखने की जरूरत है तभी उनकी जो खोई हुई या खोती जा रही अस्तित्व है उसे वे पुनर्स्थापित कर सकते हैं।

आज पुनः संपूर्ण मानव समुदाय को मार्गदर्शन एवं नेतृत्व प्रदान करने के लिए चित्रगुप्त के संतानों को आगे आना होगा और जाति धर्म संप्रदाय से ऊपर उठकर एवं अपने आपको संगठित कर अपने महाशक्तिमान क्षत्रीय धर्म का पालन करना होगा तभी संपूर्ण मानव समुदाय का सर्वांगीण विकास एवं कल्याण हो सकेगा।

KKS LIFE MEMBERSHIP CARD

As proposed during the last AGM for FY 2021-22 held on 17th September 2022, KKS introduced a life membership card designed with love and passion, and in line with the theme of Kayastha Darpan, for its life members.

Needless to say, members who have been associated with KKS for years and decades deserved to be recognized for their unconditional support in shaping it into what KKS is today.

As you may know, connecting with other members has psychological benefits like enhancing happiness, health, and motivation.

A membership card will act as a constant reminder of the benefits KKS offers, including a sense of exclusivity of tax exemption under 80G, a social networking platform for mutual benefits, and service to the society we come from.

These cards would help team EC manage your valuable database properly besides increasing your loyalty and giving you a tangible item that offers a sense of belonging to KKS. Feel proud to be a part of the KKS family and enjoy its benefits by being a proud membership card holder. A total of 68 cards have been printed and sent to members.

Requesting other members who have not yet filled in their membership form for KK Samaj (KKS) to do so immediately so that we could get the cards printed at the earliest.

Cheers
Animesh Bisaria
President, KKS

I find it irresistible to share with all of us my elation on receiving the KKS Life Membership Card... like you, I feel proud to be a Life Member of this vibrant association of ours, viz. Thank you very much, dear Animesh Ji and all for making me feel privileged like the rest of us here. 🙏 {Vikas Saxena}.
