CHALLENGE: To write exactly 150 words (no more, no less)!

You are writing part of an adventure story that begins with the sentence below:

Grey and foreboding, the castle stood high on the hill looking down across the small town, in the topmost window of the highest tower, a tiny light flickered in the window.