IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT THIRD PARTY CONTENT ID CLAIMS ON YOUTUBE

In the past Wintergatan has experienced external faulty claims from third parties being made when uploading Wintergatan songs to YouTube. We have taken action against these external faulty claims but they can still appear occasionally. We are working on this and hope that your upload experience is flawless.

HOW TO DEAL WITH THIRD PARTY CONTENT ID CLAIMS ON YOUTUBE

1. To avoid being surprised by faulty external Content ID claims, upload your video well ahead of publishing time as "private". Normally any CID claims are being made already when the video is in "private" and you can deal with them well before publishing the video.
2. Whenever you receive a faulty claim regarding a wintergatan song, dispute the claim inside YouTube with the following explanation.
"I have a license for the use of this song, i am attaching the license as a pdf file, please remove the claim"
Attach the license pdf when you send the dispute.
3. Normally the claim will be dropped within a couple of hours as long as you have Copyright on your side, or as in this case, license for the usage. Ad Revenue generated while the dispute is ongoing is held and will fall to the winning party when dispute is solved.
4. On some kind of claims Monetizing type on youtube might be greyed out for you during the dispute - meaning what kinds of ads are shown is controlled by the claimant. As soon as dispute is resolved you will be in control over the monetization and ad types again.

You do not have to be too worried about these claims, its standard procedure and nothing will happen to your channel as long as you have the rights or license to all the material in the video.

Especially common are claims from an organization called "Latin Autor".

If you see a claim from "Latin Autor, this claim is not being made by Wintergatan, please dispute and report any faulty third party external CID claims by sending screenshots of all the pages describing the claim to: management@wintergatan.net

In the case you haven't complied to the above conditions Wintergatan's Partners might claim your video on Wintergatan's behalf, those claims will then be signed with UNITED SCREENS MUSIC or KOBALT PUBLISHING. If you see claims from these Organizations, and have questions, reach out to management@wintergatan.net
