Lebanese Wine

* Lebanese wines are the hidden treasure of the Eastern Mediterranean. Even Lebanon-savvy wine connoisseurs are often surprised and delighted to discover that this small country has over Forty wineries, most of these harvesting their grapes from the colourful and sun-soaked Bekaa Valley. A valley in which the Romans chose to build a Temple for Bacchus in Baalbek. The Bekaa Valley is amongst the best wine fields in the world because of its combination of dry atmosphere, over 300 days of sunshine and a perfect amount of rainfall per year.

Lebanese wines are one of the oldest in the world, having first been made and transported around the Mediterranean and near East in 3000 BC by the ancient Phoenicians. It is even rumoured that winemaking activity took place in Lebanon as far back as 7000 BC and that Phoenicians shipped the first grapes to arrive and be planted in France, thus giving wine to the world.
