

YOUTH HUBS

Youth Hubs have been developed as part of the DWP Youth Offer to combat youth unemployment and ensure young people have the skills they need to find and secure employment.

All 16–24-year-olds who are looking for work are automatically eligible for the Youth Offer and will be supported through the DWP Youth Employment Programme. The offer to young people is made up of three key parts:

- 13 week Youth Employment Programme
- Access to Youth Employability Coaches
- Access to Youth Hubs

What is a DWP Youth Hub?

A Youth Hub is an agreed external provider site where DWP work coaches are based.

Nationwide, there are almost 120 Youth Hubs ready to work with employers and partners. Inside each hub, young people will have access to specialist youth employability coaches and tailored support.

Youth Hubs are not contained within Jobcentres which helps young people to feel more at ease.

Why should employers engage with DWP Youth Hubs?

A place for employers and partners to:

- Promote employment opportunities, including apprenticeships and open job vacancies.
- Participate in recruitment events / careers fairs.
- Recruit talent for work experience programmes.
- Deliver sector based insight days / training events.

Why should DWP Youth Hubs partner with

MOVEMENT TO WORK?

Movement to Work is a not-for-profit community of UK employers, government, and civil society, focused on tackling the ongoing problem of youth unemployment by helping young people who face barriers to work.

How it works

Movement to Work helps employers to find the best solution for their organisation - either through in-house resources or partnered with a training provider to support the delivery of an employability programme.

Through our network of training providers and youth outreach organisations, we can link unemployed young people with employers. By equipping organisations with the tools to successfully deliver a vocational employment or work experience programme, we ensure that the next generation of talent is being provided with the skills to succeed, positively impacting business performance and driving social good.

Why should DWP and Movement to Work collaborate?

Movement to Work creates opportunities that help to break the vicious 'no experience, no job' cycle that prevents so many young people from stepping into the workplace. We help employers build a more sustainable and diverse workforce which is reflective of the world we live in. The employers we engage with are all committed to offering opportunities to young people aged 18-30.
