

0618
KEHAB LITAT.

Re-imagining futures:

Exploring arts interventions and the process of desistance

Contents

|   |    |
|---|----|
| Foreword  | 2  |
| Executive summary   | 5  |
| Background  | 9  |
| About this report   | 9  |
| Introduction & context setting                            | 9  |
| Research process  | 11 |
| The arts and the Criminal Justice System                  | 12 |
| Desistance from crime                                     | 13 |
| How the arts and desistance might be linked               | 14 |
| Findings  | 15 |
| Visual art in the high security estate                    | 15 |
| Music production with young offenders in the community    | 27 |
| Music making with male prisoners in an open prison        | 34 |
| Creative writing and journal making with female prisoners | 41 |
| Overall thematic findings and summary                     | 50 |
| Recommendations   | 54 |
| References  | 56 |
| Appendix – Research tools                                 | 59 |

Research by:

Charlotte Bilby, Senior Lecturer in Criminology, Northumbria University

Laura Caulfield, Head of Research and Consultancy, Bath Spa University

Louise Ridley, Senior Lecturer in Criminology, Northumbria University

59 Carter Street
London EC4V 5AQ
020 7246 2568
www.artsalliance.org.uk

Managed by:

www.clinks.org

Photo © Emma Hornsby