This book has no commercial purpose. It aims at informing family, friends, art lovers and artists. We are thankful to the authors of the excerpts borrowed for the editing of the artists' biographies.

Reproductions of the artworks are with due respect to the authorship of the photographers and to the copyright of the artists. For materials of which the origin could be traced, permission for reproduction has been requested. In the case of other materials, the authors can be approached. Every effort has been made to trace copyright holders. If, however, you feel that you have inadvertently been overlooked, you may contact the authors.

No part of this publication meant for internal use may be reproduced in any form (digital or other) without written permission.

For those interested in the projects of Art Without Bars, see www.artwithoutbars.be.
This book is published on the occasion of the authors' 70th birthday.
