

The South Asian Student Association (SASA) invites all students at Lund University sharing a deep interest in the countries of South Asia – Afghanistan, Bhutan, Bangladesh, India, Maldives, Nepal, Pakistan and Sri Lanka – to participate in SASA activities.

For more information,
Ms. Hawwa Lubna,
Chairperson, SASA
e-mail: hawwalubna@gmail.com

SASA on Facebook:
<https://www.facebook.com/groups/427209360703001/>

SASNET
Swedish South Asian Studies Network

LUND
UNIVERSITY

South Asian Students Association (SASA)

Join the student body of Swedish South Asian Studies Network (SASNET)

Background:

The South Asian Student Association (SASA) at Lund University is the student body of Swedish South Asian Studies Network (SASNET).

It was formed in early 2013 in collaboration with the Social Sciences students Union to promote students interest for South Asia and provide a platform for educational and cultural exchange between South Asian students in Lund and other international students.

SASA was officially launched on 24 April 2013.

Goals:

- NETWORKING: We promote educational and cultural exchange between South Asian students and other international students.
- RESEARCH SUPPORT: We promote educational and research opportunities available for students doing research on South Asia
- INTEGRATION: We provide a support platform for South Asian students to integrate into student life in Lund.
- AWARENESS RAISING: We work to enhance knowledge and understanding of the social, political and economic situation in South Asian countries and build student partnerships.

We organise:

- Educational Seminars
- Conferences
- Movie Nights
- Cultural programs
- Social events

