You will start your tour through Oslo with the visit to City hall, where Nobel Peace Prize is awarded. Then during the tour you will see: main street of Oslo – Karl Johans gate, Royal Palace, National theater, University, and main other attractions, which are situated mainly on Karl Johans gate. The tour will end near the Oslo Opera house, located at the shore of Oslofjord.

Trip through time – Åkerhus and Åkerbrygge (2 hours)

Åkerhus fortress has been a reliable defender of the city since the ancient times. The tour will start at the City Hall square, at the place where historical and modern parts of the town come together. During the tour we will walk through the city learning a lot about its history.

Long live the King! The theme tour (3 hours)

Norway has always been a monarchy ruled by kings. In the most cases the crown was passed through the generations from the king to his son, but here in Norway, sometimes kings were elected. There were times then the King of Norway ruled only in this country, but there were also times, then Sweden and Denmark were also under the King of Norway, and his power were almost unlimited. During this tour you will learn about the past kings of Norway, modern royal family and the future of monarchy in this country.

From hieroglyphs to Munch (History museum and National gallery) (3 hours)

What could be in common between Norwegians, who lived here centuries ago and modern citizens? Not only traditions, passed from generations, but art. It's the ability to draw and paint, on canvas or stone, to carve wood and create beautiful things. It's the ability to see beauty in nature and the things around you.

Guided tour of Oslo center Vigeland sculpture park and Viking ship museum (4 hours)

There wouldn't be Norway without long history of vikings. Who they were and where they came from? How they lived and what they believed in – all this you will find out during this tour. The tour will start with classic Oslo city tour, then will take you to Vigeland sculpture park, and then the atmosphere of modern Oslo will change to Viking times in the ship museum.

Whole day excursions, by transport + by foot.

Neat guided tours are aimed for those who want to see much more in one day.

City guided tour, Vigeland sculpture park and Kon-Tikki museum or Museum of Cultural history (5 – 6 hours)

This guided tour will combine essential Oslo guided tour with Vigeland sculpture park and also museums on Bygdoy peninsula, which is rightly called “the Museum Peninsula”. There are several of them and you can adjust the trip to your interests. We strongly recommend Folkemuseum (the Museum of Cultural history) – it's an open-air museum with more than 150 buildings brought from different parts of the country representing life other local people in different times.

All of Oslo in one day (7-8 hours)

This guided tour will allow you to see as much as possible in one day, though of course this is impossible to see everything in such a short period of time. Oslo is a huge town, full of different attractions and places worth visiting. It has at least 250 museums! Usually people visit only the center once, but we offer not to limit yourself to the popular routes and see more of Oslo – visit Åkerhus castle and imagine how Norway's royalty lived, get to the jumping ramp at Holmenkollen, and visit skiing museum, and of course have some quite time, to have lunch in one of the oldest restaurants here on Holmenkollen with the view over the city.
