

Directors & Officers

While your company's liability is limited, a director's and officer's liability is unlimited in most jurisdictions. The board of directors and executive management can thus be targeted personally for their decisions and actions – either individually or collectively. Our tailorable Directors and Officers (D&O) insurance covers defense costs incurred by board members, managers, and employees in defending against claims of both actual and alleged wrongdoing, as well as damages awarded. The insurance provides covers from first civil or criminal investigation.

- Underwritten to specific risks and exposures
- Broad appetite spanning almost all industries
- Limited appetite for companies with exposure to the United States Securities and Exchange Commission
- Ample capacity (EUR 25M+)
- We do not apply a self-insured retention to insured persons