

Harry O’Conor Paralegal

Harry has been with Southwell & Partners since April 2023.

Harry has a diverse background encompassing experience in Immigration and Asylum law, Private Client matters, and Criminal law. Complementing his legal experience, Harry spent four years working in of sustainable housing, reflecting his drive for pursuing lasting societal change.

His first experience working on cases involving Modern Day Slavery came when he spent a year in Chennai, India with an Anti-Human Trafficking organisation. Working with the Government & Legal Team, Harry witnessed the brutal reality of forced labour first hand, and the efforts of others to combat it through advocacy. He later volunteered with the Bristol Hospitality Network as part of the Advocacy team, supporting destitute asylum seekers.

Education

- Harry graduated from Durham University in 2015 in Theology
- He completed the GDL (Conversion) in 2018
- He completed the LPC LLM in 2021.