Early or late harvest?

Fruity Olive oil—The Early harvest of olives gives aromatic greenish-yellow oil. With characteristics such as almonds, artichokes, and a little pepper on the end. Mild Olive oil—olives are picked later, the Late harvest, and therefore more mature. They give a golden-yellow, ripened, round oil, with characteristics such as almonds, artichokes, vegetables and a gentle sweetness.

The Wine Vinegar— “Vinagre de Vi” is made of Carignan and Grenache grapes from the Priorat region. The vinegar is aged in various old wooden barrels of different wood types. Before filling the bottle, grape must is added to obtain a bittersweet taste. “Vinagre de Vi” can be used for dressings, salads, sauces, desserts and for marinating meat of various kinds.
