

At home

Have you ever thought about the following statement: Perfume does not clean. Well, we have said it many times over the last years. Perfume does not clean.

It makes your house smell clean, but it does not clean anything, it does not remove dust or dustmites, it does not help your dishwasher get the smudges of the plates. It just makes everything smell and enhance your risk of developing skin allergy. So when you want to live a skin-friendly life choose products for your household that are without perfume and other allergenic ingredients.

NEUTRAL

Neutral has more than 25 years of experience and strive to produce home and personal care products that are specially designed for sensitive skin in order to share the vision of preventing skin allergies.

Their products are sold in Scandinavia, the UK and the Netherlands.

ECOGENIC

Ecogenic is a range of cleaning products made with selected ecosustainable and plant-based ingredients. Aware of the risk of allergy with natural ingredients Ecogenic has developed skin-friendly products for babies.

The products are sold internationally on Amazon.

DETTOL

Launched over 80 years ago, Dettol has been a leader in germ protection helping to safeguard the health of families around the world through better hygiene.

Now they've developed skin-friendly cleaning options for your home.

The three certified products are available in Finland, Sweden, Norway and Denmark.

