

Cookie Policy

What is a cookie?

A cookie is a very small text file that is placed on your device by websites that you visit. The information the cookie contains is set by the server that operates the website and it can be used by that server whenever the user visits the site.

Information about our use of cookies

Our website uses cookies to distinguish you from other users of our website. This helps us to provide you with a good experience when you browse our website and allows us to improve our site.

Types of cookies

Cookies can be grouped in the following categories:

Session cookies

These cookies are temporary. They are stored in the devices' memory only during a user's browsing session and are automatically deleted from the user's device when the browser is closed.

Persistent or permanent

These cookies are stored on the user's device and are not deleted when the browser is closed. Permanent cookies can retain user preferences for a particular website, allowing those preferences to be used in future browsing sessions. These cookies remain on your device until you erase them or they expire (this depends on how long the visited website has defined the cookie to last).

The following cookies are used on this website:

First party cookies

First party cookies are set by our website, you are visiting and they can only be read by our site.
