

Scrapbook - "Danmark's Army and Navy" Army Air Forces, etc.

Introduction

With the mention of motifs from the Danish Air Force and the Luftværnsartilleriet available, the majority of the motifs from the booklet "Danmark's Army and Fleet" are now described.

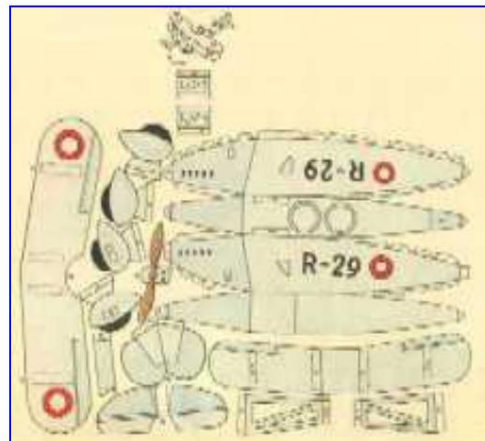

The quality of the image material this time may not be quite top.

The motifs are scanned from the original booklet, which had to be treated with such care that it did not completely fall apart.

The Army Air Forces and the Air Defense Artillery, etc.

Army Air Forces

- The reconnaissance machine R-29.

The anti-aircraft artillery and other motifs

- 150 cm floodlight with crew.
- Commanders and privates.
- A pilot.
- Radio station (type unknown).

Sources and additional information

1. Danish Military Aircraft over 50 years - 1912-1962 by Hans Kofoed, Flyv's Publisher, Copenhagen 1962.
2. Memory book for use in the field, during exercises and war games by lieutenant colonel HH Jorgensen. Published with the support of the Ministry of War, Copenhagen, 1936.

3. Elastolin katalog 1939-40 gengivet i The War Toys No. 1 The Story of HAUSSER-ELASTOLIN af Reggie Polaine, New Cavendish Books, London 1979, ISBN 0-904568-17-2.

Closing

The play value in the cardboard soldiers has been great, not least because of the model of the R-29. What remains now is to see if someone will print the airplane on cardboard and then build the plane.

I would be happy if that were to happen!

Per Finsted