

Quality policy

Emcomp International is an agency firm that markets and sells electrical components and solutions for harsh environments. Examples of harsh environments are extreme ambient temperatures, dirt, moisture and EX-zones. The products are shipped from our warehouses in Sweden or Hong Kong. Quality awareness and attentive service makes us the customers first hand choice.

Distribution of products and services take place from our warehouses in Sweden or Hong Kong. Quality awareness and attentive service make us the customer's first choice. The working method at Emcomp must be preventive and strive for continuous improvement. We must prevent deviations in our processes by constantly improving the handling of quality issues and continuously developing staff and procedures. We work with consultation and participation of employees and employee representatives. Current legislation is always a minimum requirement in Emcomp's operations.

In practice, Emcomp should:

- Work for a responsible and quality-conscious leadership.
- Work for preventive and corrective measures.
- Have a good dialogue with suppliers and customers.
- Work for continuous competence development.
- Inform all employees about the quality policy.
- All employees are responsible for knowing, understanding, applying and further developing the policy.
