We are entering a new business year

As we step into a new business year on April 1st, we do so with renewed energy, strong commitment, and great confidence in the future. We look forward to entering this new chapter together with our customers and partners.

Looking back on the past year

The past year has been both dynamic and instructive. In particular, the recent weeks of conflict in the Middle East have required flexibility, close collaboration, and a forward-looking mindset.

Through strong partnerships and continuous dialogue, we have continued to develop and create value together with our customers. Throughout the year, we prioritized meeting both new and existing customers, through digital channels as well as in-person meetings. The EuroExpo trade fairs have been an important arena for building new relationships.

We would like to extend a sincere thank you to all our customers and partners for your trust, inspiring discussions, and successful collaborations. We firmly believe that long-term success is created together.

Looking ahead – our focus for 2026

2026 will be a year of clear focus and well-defined priorities. We see significant opportunities within our customized solutions business, where we not only deliver products, but also add value through sub-assemblies and logistics solutions tailored to our customers' needs.

What makes us optimistic

The engagement of our team, our ambition to continuously improve, and our close relationships with customers give us strong confidence in the road ahead.

A special thank you goes to our employees. Your dedication, expertise, and positive energy are the foundation of everything we do, and what makes Emcomp the company it is today.
We look forward to continuing our journey together in the coming year, filled with opportunities, meaningful conversations, and new collaborations.

BEST REGARDS,

Andreas Anselmius
