Primary work areas: IT Strategy & Governance, Personal Data Protection, IT Risk Management, IT Sourcing and IT Audit.

Network facilitator

Kersi Porbunderwalla, President and CEO The EU GDPR Institute.

Scope

All organisations are increasingly met by new regulations that challenge the current compliance processes and places higher demands on risk management. The EU General Data Protection Regulation, (GDPR) is essential for the cyber and IT risk profile and compliance work. These factors continue to impose new circumstances, control, accountability and transparency profiles of the companies.

The network is made up of professionals in legal, compliance, risk management, auditing, IT and information security professionals.

Purpose

The GDPR network aims to create a forum for discussions on relevant GDPR topics at a high theoretical and practical level. Experts will illuminate issues related to GDPR, and allow for the exchange of experiences, help develop new knowledge and give you the opportunity to establish and build business relationships with people, who work extensively within the area.

Discussion subjects:
At the network meetings, we will focus on the proper understanding of GDPR across the organisation. The questions will be trade or profession neutral and will address the issues that challenge or threaten the corporate GDPR objectives and strategy.

We will focus on the detailed assessment, measurement and monitoring of GDPR. This integrated insight into the internal and external operating environment is a crucial enabler for better corporate decision making. We will discuss how to achieve goals and deliver increased value to key stakeholders, in the form of reduced compliance and operating costs, or improved business performance.

Our agenda will cover:

- Regular updates on the data protection and privacy regulation
- Data and IT governance: the active monitoring and reporting of data management and cybersecurity
- Tone at the top: management/board's responsibility in setting priorities for privacy risks
- Monitoring, Code of Conduct and Certification
- Due diligence: the screening and training of third party and partners
- Crisis management: the prevention of brand and reputation damage due to cyber attacks
- DPIA assessments: the implementation of the ISO/IEC 29134:2017 and practicalities in identifying, measuring and controlling privacy and compliance risks
- GDPR disclosures and oversight reporting systems

Benefits
Networking will help to develop customised roadmaps and frameworks to define and create end-to-end processes around the GDPR needs to integrate and embed these into your operations and organisation including implementing security awareness programs with a GDPR governance operating model to perform regular gap analysis.

Your membership for this network will grant you access to:

- The EU GRPR Toolkit with policies templates, standards and other reference materials
- Consulting with members on an individual basis or through the EU GDPR Institute networks on privacy matters
- Support from the EU GDPR Institute
- Communication to keep you updated about development in regulations, Global Data Protection and Privacy laws and other privacy standards
- Invitations to events and training opportunities at a discounted fee

Network focus area and approach

- Developing a GDPR program and methodology to provide a flexible and stable set of operating procedures, independent of the organisational structure of participating members
- Workshops in between meetings, training and information on the software components to comply and address critical issues
- Focus on the never-ending challenges of GDPR to support a successful business. Understanding and managing risk while ensuring compliance including the scope, design, installation and implementation of quality reviews

Join the network and get inspiration and learn how to use GDPR as a lubricant to automate privacy, cybersecurity processes and a tool to implement the corporate digitisation. The guidance will provide an opportunity to correct past implementation mistakes, or continue the GDPR journey in a structured and organised manner. At each network meeting, we will always address the critical, topical and timely GDPR issues, and provide you with planned application guidance on implementing, monitoring and disclosing GDPR issues.

Your profile

The network welcomes leaders, who work with GDPR compliance, risk and governance at both a strategic and operational level. Get the most out of the GDPR relationships that we will build together.

All meetings are under the Chatham House Rule.

CHATHAM HOUSE

"When a meeting, or part thereof, is held under the Chatham House Rule. participants are free to use the information received, but neither the identity nor the affiliation of the speaker(s), nor that of any other participant, may be revealed."
