Year: 2022

Fabius Kossack is a 3D Designer and Motion Artist based in Berlin who is specializing in product visualizations and 3D animations. With a focus on commercial and cultural clients he mostly operates in the field of fashion, music and product, developing visual campaigns, identities and individual narratives with a strong contemporary approach and a highly digital aesthetic.

After having studied product design and visual communication at Bauhaus University Weimar and Burg Giebichenstein Kunsthochschule Halle he graduated with a masters degree in 2021. Since then he has been working as a freelancer for several brands, agencies and companies.
