HOW TO SELECT THE RIGHT Architect

You've been planning to build your dream home for years, and finally you've decided to embark in the journey of making it a reality.

SPRING 2023

You roll up your sleeves, sketch some ideas in a spare of capital, and look for someone who could prepare some plans as quickly as possible. Unfortunately, a lot...

Many of my clients only start their design process after making many costly mistakes. The purpose of this article is to provide some insight on the value you get from having the right architect by your side from the very beginning.

THEY UNDERSTAND YOUR VISION AND FULFILL IT.

When you select an architect to work with you on the design of your home, you're entering into a partnership.

The architect must listen and understand your hopes and vision, and have a clear outline of your concerns and needs. This step is critical to ensure your vision is carried out throughout the development of the project. The right architect will design with your needs in mind and be a trusted advisor from start to finish.

THEY INFORM YOU OF POTENTIAL CHALLENGES.

Not all architects are the same, and that's a good thing. The increased complexity of buildings and construction systems has forced architects to specialize in a certain building type. Working with an architect who will ensure that he or she understands the project and can foresee any potential issues at the initial stages of the project.

This will ensure that the design and the approval process go smoothly, and you'll avoid any unexpected costs and schedule changes.

THEY KEEP YOUR PROJECT WITHIN YOUR BUDGET.

The right architect will ask the right questions. One of them is budget. We all know someone that spent more than what they wanted to spend in their construction project.

A detail-oriented architect will ask you about your budget very early on, to ensure the design of your home is within the range you established. The better you know your budget, and the more you communicate with your architect, the more likely you are to stay within budget.

THEY PRIORITIZE ENERGY EFFICIENCY AND INTERIOR QUALITY.

With the escalation of energy costs, you want to design a home that is resilient and can be as energy efficient as possible. A residential architect will help you design your home to the highest standard of energy performance. This ensures you're maximizing the interior of your property, taking advantage of solar exposure and views of the exterior.

A seasoned expert architect will design spaces that make you feel great. And that's exactly how you want to feel every time you walk into your home.

The architect must listen and understand your hopes and vision, and have a clear outline of your concerns and needs.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR: Eric Rodriguez is one of the leading voices in today's residential architecture. He is the Founder and Creative Director of Boldera Architects, located in Toronto, Ontario.

Eric has helped many families design their dream homes, with a focus on sustainable and timeless architectural design. His design approach is deeply focused on responding to his clients' needs with innovative and creative design solutions. His work has been widely recognized and published, having obtained multiple national and international awards.

Boldera has redefined the way architects design homes, with a unique process that guarantees your vision is fulfilled and your project stays on budget.

BLOOD SELLS.

The GEKO device dramatically increases blood-flow, revolutionising the treatment of oedema and thrombosis. We'd like to tell you about a few of it's key benefits...

- Ten stimulation settings to address a wide variation in the responsiveness of patients to stimulation.
- Painless 1Hz muscle contractions every second increases superficial femoral venous volume flow by 100%, femoral arterial volume flow by 75%, and microcirculatory flux to the skin on the dorsum of the foot and thigh by 400%.
- Increases venous, arterial and microcirculatory blood flow equal to 60% of walking.
- No wires or leads. No tripping hazard. Allows patients to be mobile and independent.
- Weighs just 10g. Small, light, and comfortable to wear. Quick and easy to fit.

■ What it does and how it works:

The geko™ device, powered by OnPulse™ neuromuscular electrostimulation technology, is clinically proven to increase blood flow for the promotion of wounds healing and the reduction of oedema.

OnPulse™ technology stimulates the common peroneal nerve activating the calf and foot muscle pumps resulting in isometric muscle contraction and increased blood flow to prevent and treat a wide range of acute and chronic medical conditions.

The size of a wrist-watch and worn at the knee, battery powered, daily disposable geko™ device gently stimulates the common peroneal nerve activating the calf and foot muscle pumps, resulting in increased venous arterial and microcirculatory blood flow.

LEADERS IN THE FIELD.

The Firefly recovery device is revolutionising the lives of elite sports competitors around the world. This is why you need it in your kit bag...

Firefly is a portable recovery device used by professional athletes including pro marathoners Molly Seidel and Galen Rupp, Olympians, and weekend warriors. It's also used by more than 350 pro and collegiate athletic teams.

Recover faster, train harder

Firefly is a revolutionary recovery device used by professional athletes, Olympians, and weekend warriors. It helps your body to recover faster by increasing blood flow throughout your entire body. firefly is small and portable, so you can take it with you wherever you go.

By stimulating the peroneal nerve (a nerve in your leg) firefly increases blood flow. The stimulation activates a small twitch in your foot that increase blood flow from your feet to your heat.

Stimulates blood flow

Firefly sends small electrical pulses to stimulate your peroneal nerve (in your leg) creating a slight foot "flutter" which increases blood flow by 400%.

This means more fresh blood and oxygen to reduce lactic acid and soreness, eliminate toxins, and keep muscles flexible.

More blood & oxygen

Increased blood flow means your muscles get more oxygen and nutrients. This helps your body to recover from exercise faster and reduces soreness.

Studies show that Firefly works for recovery by increasing blood flow which creates a slight foot flutter which then increases blood flow by a drastic 400 percent. This can reduce recovery time from 3 to 1 day.

Calm and reassurance in stressful times.

In recent years there has been a steady increase in disputes involving Wills, Trusts and Estates. There are key factors that have driven this increase.

Longer life expectancy means more people are experiencing a decline in their mental faculties in their later years and are more vulnerable to third party influence.

Interests for individuals to take into account when deciding how to divide their assets.

Disputes involving Wills, Trusts and Estates need to be handled in a way that recognises the commercial realities as well as the emotional factors involved.

A balanced approach to family disputes.

Areas of expertise:

- ✓ Claims under the Inheritance (Provision for Family and Dependants) Act 1975
- ✓ Contested Wills
- ✓ Estate Administration Disputes
- ✓ Trust Disputes
- ✓ Proprietary Estoppel
- ✓ Challenging Lifetime Gifts

The way family structures have changed means that there are more competing interests for individuals to take into account when deciding how to divide their assets. Our specialist team have the necessary expertise to help guide you through the process of dealing with an estate or trust dispute.

We combine insight and advice with sensitivity and consideration, so you'll understand every aspect of any dispute in which you're involved. Whether you are an executor or beneficiary defending a claim or an individual seeking to make a claim - we can assist every step of the way.

Members of our team are STEP (Society of Trusts and Estates Practitioners) and ACTAPS (Association of Contentious Trust and Probate Specialists) qualified, which reflects the high quality and complex work we regularly undertake in this area.

We combine insight and advice with sensitivity and consideration, so you'll understand every aspect of any dispute in which you're involved.

Inheritance Act Claims

If you don't feel a will makes reasonable financial provision for you, our experienced Inheritance Act specialists can advise you on making a claim for provision from the estate of a deceased person. We also advise personal representatives defending estates against such claims, as well as beneficiary defendants.

Contested Wills

Challenges to wills have become increasingly common. Our specialist team can advise you whether you're seeking to contest a will or its provisions, or facing a challenge to a will you are administering or stand to benefit from.

Estate Administration Disputes

The process of administering an estate can quickly become complicated if a dispute arises between executors, beneficiaries or third parties. Whatever the nature of the dispute, Aaron & Partners can help you to resolve it as quickly - and painlessly - as possible.

Trust Disputes

Trust disputes can involve a disagreement about the terms of the trust, disputes with beneficiaries and third party disputes. Whatever the specifics of the situation, we can provide expert, timely and insightful advice to trustees, beneficiaries, and third parties in a wide range of trust disputes.

Proprietary Estoppel

Where one person has acted to their detriment in reliance on a promise made by another about a right they will receive over an asset, then the courts can, in certain circumstances, step in and enforce the promise. Whether you're looking to enforce a broken promise, or are facing such a claim, our specialist team can assist you all the way.

Challenging Lifetime Gifts

There are many reasons why individuals may decide to make gifts to someone, usually of money, personal belongings or property. Provided the gift was made by somebody who fully understood what they were doing who made the gift free from any undue pressure from the recipient, the gift is likely to be valid. If however, there are suspicious or worrying circumstances surrounding the gift then it may be subject to challenge.

Helping creditors recover what is rightfully theirs.

When companies or individuals face financial difficulty, creditors are the ones who are likely to suffer.

This is particularly the case for unsecured creditors, who are one of the final groups of creditors to be paid in any insolvency situation.

Here at Aaron & Partners we provide a free, bespoke and specialist service which is dealt with by our team of experts who have decades of experience in dealing with insolvency situations.

The team work hard to add value for creditors, offering practical and impartial solutions and keeping you informed throughout each stage of the process.

The primary goal is to maximise recoveries for you and/or to prevent further loss.

Your trusted environmental law expert.

Environmental law is complex and constantly evolving, with implications and requirements that can affect a huge range of projects and transactions.

Few planning, property, infrastructure, energy, minerals or construction projects, for example, could proceed without negotiating the necessary environmental legal framework.

In order to thrive, businesses must understand and grasp these issues and how they affect their objectives.

Aaron & Partners has a proven track record of first class legal advice across a diverse range of environmental matters, with in-depth experience that few firms our size can match.

Whatever the situation, our expert team provides cost effective, commercial solutions to help you achieve your objectives and guide you through the maze of regulations

Strength in depth you can rely on.

Our environmental team is part of our Planning, Environment, Energy and Regulatory (PEER) department. This specialist team advises and represents businesses, organisations, charities and individuals across the UK, providing practical, turn-of-key advice to help navigate these complex areas of law.

Environmental regulation and enforcement.

All businesses are regulated in some way. When a business undertakes environmental work, it is bound to the inevitable process of regulatory checks and enforcement. Our clients come to us because we aim to provide sensible solutions that help them achieve their objectives, whether that means advising, defending a prosecution or liaising with regulators.

- ✓ Waste
- ✓ Sewage
- ✓ Enforcement and regulation Permitting and appeals

Planning and the environment.

In a country of 94,000 sq. miles and an expanding population of 64 million, the pressure is on central and local government, developers and communities to resolve planning disputes and find their way through the complex minefield of rules and laws.

The path may not always be clear, but we are adept at finding the best way through.

- We can help you with:
- ✓ Planning applications Environmental impact assessments Conservation law issues
  - ✓ Planning appeals
  - ✓ Energy projects
  - ✓ Enforcement proceedings
  - ✓ Town and village green registration Tree preservation orders
  - ✓ Judicial review and statutory appeals Minerals and waste

66 Totally blown away by your professionalism and approach and I personally can't thank you enough for getting us that result. 99
