中国环境科学学会
CHINESE SOCIETY FOR ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCES

永续发展国际研讨会
International Symposium on Sustainable Development

Letter of Appreciation

November 4th, 2024

No.54 Hongliannancun,

Haidian, Beijing, P.R.China

Dear Mr. Göran Gennvi,

We are deeply appreciated of your active participation in the International Symposium on Sustainable Development and the wisdom you shared through speeches and conversations at this unique gathering. Your dedication to a sustainable future and commitment to fostering international collaboration are truly commendable. We believe that this trip has not only brought us to a deeper dimension of mutual understanding, but also a wealth of knowledges with strong interconnectivity.

The insights you shared on the most urgent issues of our time have been enlightening and inspiring. And your engagement with the participants from China has not only facilitated the exchange of ideas but has also helped in building a platform for bounderless thinking and global common actions. And what's more important is that we found the power of unity.

We are particularly grateful for the long-term vision and practical suggestions you've offered towards the planning of the World Sustainable Development Forum that will take place next year. Your participation will undoubtedly play a crucial role in shaping the agenda and ensuring the success of this upcoming event.

We also hope that the relationships and collaborations initiated at this Symposium will continue to flourish. Let's keep the momentum with ongoing dialogues and communication, as our journey towards a shared future has already started.

Last but not least, thank you for your invaluable contributions. We look forward to seeing you back to China for many more fruitful engagements in the future. And your presence at the World Sustainable Development Forum next year would be highly expected.

Sincerely,

Zuyi Xia

Zuyi Xia

Vice President and Secretary-General

Chinese Society for Environmental Sciences