I’m sure we all do; we say something that on reflection we wish we hadn’t. We’re looking at Peter today, well his first letter but Peter has this reputation of being impulsive and saying the wrong things or acting hastily. We learn a bit about him in the Bible, where and how his characteristics came through; impulsive, decisive and all those things; opens mouth before engaging brain! These are not all negative, he had many positive features as well. Jesus always acted with compassion and sensitivity. If we think about the Easter accounts where Peter denies even knowing Jesus, Jesus does forgive Peter and assures him of his love. As we read this part of Peter’s first letter, we see that Peter learnt from his experiences with Jesus, we may say of course he did! Our challenge is to do the same, learn from Jesus even though we may only open our mouth to put our foot in! ‘To be like Jesus’ is a well-known song and something we should learn from. I hope we all can.
