

Come undone, as you are

#A            D            C

This is a song for the broken hearted

#A            D            F

This is a song for those who lost the light

#A            D                    C

I know there's hope for the humble hearted

#A            D                    F

Cause there's a man that died and rose again

#A,D, C

          #A                            D                            F,G

Ref. We come undone, we come just as we are

#A                            D                            C

To be transformed by the power of his blood x2

#A                            D                            C

The road's been long and the road's

          #A                            D                            F

been winding with many bad mistakes

#A                            D                            C

But in your prescence we are forgiven

Thru (the) blood of Jesus Christ

Ref.

#A,D,#A,D,#A,D,G

          #A                    D            #A                    D            #A                    D                    G

Stick. Here we stand before your throne To be transformed back to your image x4        Ref.    The END...    © Kingdom Chapel Worship 2021
