

THE YOUNGEST ENGLAND PLAYERS IN HISTORY

Playing for England is a pleasure that not many enjoy, but who are the youngest to ever get this honour?

17 & 111 DAYS

Wayne Rooney made his debut against Australia after 22 first team appearance.

17 & 75 DAYS

Theo Walcott is the youngest player to ever play for England. At the age of just 17 he was subbed on against Hungary after 23 first team appearances.

17 & 253 DAYS

James Prinsep made his debut against Scotland in 1879.

17 & 311 DAYS

Thurston Rostron made his debut against Wales in 1881.

17 & 311 DAYS

Raheem Sterling made his debut against Sweden after 20 first team appearances.

18 & 24 DAYS

Clement Mitchell made his debut against Wales in 1880.

18 & 59 DAYS

Micheal Owen made his debut against Chile after 33 first team appearances and 15 top flight goals.

18 & 135 DAYS

Callum Hudson-Odoi recently made his debut against the Czech Republic after making 22 first team appearances.

18 & 144 DAYS

Micah Richards made his debut against Netherlands after 29 first team appearances.

18 & 183 DAYS

Duncan Edwards made his debut against Scotland in 1955 after 29 first team appearances.

18 & 201 DAYS

Jadon Sancho recently made his debut against Croatia after 19 first year appearances.

18 & 209 DAYS

Marcus Rashford made his debut against Australia after making 18 first team appearances.

