

Funsters/Fun and Friendship at home

- Week 4

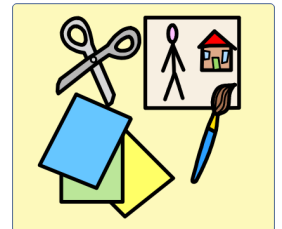

Hello everyone!

Hope everyone is keeping well. This week I will be reading a short story based upon the Star Wars Universe. I have also given you lots of activities to do so have a look and let us know what you think. Contact me at amy@meltonmencap.org.uk

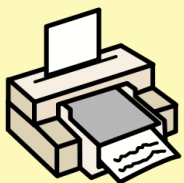

Activity:

Listen to the story and answer a few questions about what you have just heard. The pages are on the video too so you can have a go at reading the book yourself.

You have also been sent activities, crafts and games to print off and do whilst you are at home.

What you may need for activities:

printer

something to write with glue scissors
