Venue:

The training was conducted in Abay Minch Logue (in Bahir Dar), which is located a few kilometers away from the cities where the participants enjoyed the natural surroundings as well as the good hospitality.

Team:

The team included Mr. Abraham Nida (Migrafrica), Mr. Amanuel Amare (Migrafrica), Mr. Elias Gizachew (X-Hub), Anteneh Kifle (Association Of Ethiopian Microfinance Institutions (AEMFI)) and Ms. Ramona Capaldo (Migrafrica). The Trainers team was composed of different disciplines and experiences. Abraham and Amanuel provided information on issues of irregular migrants in Europe from the perspective of Diaspora young people living in Europe. From their perspective they have informed the young people about the situation of young refugees as they embark on a journey to Europe. They have also informed the young people on the situation of African young migrants in Sudan, Sahara, Libya, as they cross the Mediterranean sea, reach Italy and other EU countries. Elias from the perspective of X-Hub provided training on entrepreneurs mind-set as well as how to convert local resources into saleable products that can produce incomes. This practical exercise is supported by Amanuel and Abraham, they have trained the young people on how to produce Marmalade using local fruits, how to package and brand local honey and other products. Anteneh from AEMFI delivered information on how to raise funds for their projects, how to access the government and non-government microcredit programs, how to formally register businesses as well as the different tax incentives, formalities and responsibilities that they need to be cautious of. Ms. Ramona Capaldo was responsible for organizational and logistical matters. She also provided energizing exercises in between the sessions to facilitate the learning outcomes.

Peace and Security:

Even though, march 2019 was unstable period in Ethiopia the team and participants arrived safe and concluded the training safely. We have taken extra precautions such as avoiding demonstrations and large gatherings of people. One other precaution we took was to inform the participants that our training is political, ethnical/race, religious and other sensitive issues neutral. We have also informed the local police of our activities and made sure all the emergency telephone numbers are noted and are ready in case of emergency. The first AID materials were prepared and we have identified the nearest hospitals and clinics and how to get there quickly.

Training Material:

The team was well organized and equipped with all the necessary training materials. The training materials included slide presentations, equipment needed for different games within the training, the moderation box, flip chart papers, post-it notes, markers and other materials needed for training.

Health Conditions:

Nobody has faced a serious health issue from the trainers' side and only one trainee was suffering from a headache in the last day of the training and the team provided her with a medicine and has been following up her till the final day and found her recovered.

- Two excellent business ideas were selected, and they won a prize of 1000 (1st Rank) and 500 (2nd Rank) euro.
- Finally, Certification signed by xhub and Migrafrica.

Venue:

The training was conducted in Sumeya Hotel which is located at the center of Harar city where the participants enjoyed the setup and good hospitality. The hotel provided security and guarantee that we will be safe during the training period. It also provided the needed logistical and practical support so that the training can be concluded successfully.

Team:

The team included Mr. Abraham Nida (Migrafrica), Mr. Amanuel Amare (Migrafrica), Mr. Elias Gizachew (X-Hub), Anteneh Kifle (Association Of Ethiopian Microfinance Institutions (AEMFI)) and Ms. Ramona Capaldo (Migrafrica). Ms. Ramona Capaldo was responsible for organizational and logistical matters. She also provided energizing exercises in between the sessions to facilitate the learning outcomes.

Peace and Security:

Harar during the training week was under federal state of emergency. The local police was replaced by the federal police and the national military. Undertaking such trainings in such kind of atmosphere was of course challenging. However, we have undertaken the needed measures before the training week as well as during to make the surroundings as safe as possible for the team and the participants. One such measure was informing the local security apparatus that we are gathering young people and providing training for a week on entrepreneurship. We have also informed the local authorities that the gathering does not have any political intentions. We have informed the authorities that we will make sure that the young people who are participating will be safe and we will take responsibility for that.

Training Material:

The team was well organized and equipped with all the necessary training materials. The training materials included slide presentations, equipment needed for different games within the training, the moderation box, flip chart papers, post-it notes, markers and other materials needed for training.

Health Conditions:

Nobody has faced a health issue from both the trainers' side and trainee's.

- Two excellent business ideas were selected, and they won a prize of 1000 (1st Rank) and 500 (2nd Rank) euro.
- Finally, Certification signed by xhub and Migrafrica.

Venue:

The training was conducted in Haile Resort which is located a few kilometers away from the city. The location provided a natural and comfortable atmosphere for learning, concentration and creativity. The participants enjoyed the lake and the setup as well as the good hospitality.

Team:

The team included Mr. Abraham Nida (Migrafrica), Mr. Amanuel Amare (Migrafrica), Mr. Elias Gizachew (X-Hub), Anteneh Kifle (Association Of Ethiopian Microfinance Institutions (AEMFI)) and Ms. Ramona Capaldo (Migrafrica). Ms. Ramona Capaldo was responsible for organizational and logistical matters. She also provided energizing exercises in between the sessions to facilitate the learning outcomes.

Peace and Security:

The security situation in Awassa was relatively better. But during the training week, the city was under strike due to the Sidama people's national question of becoming a federal region and administration on its own. The strike did not affect us that much since the transport and the hotel were fully functional. The Airport was also open and fully functional.

Just the same as we did in the other training we have informed the participants and the local administration that our event does not have political and other hidden agendas. We were only there to talk about how to create own business and find a way out of long-term unemployment.

We have made all the precautions to for any cases of emergency and prepared all the firstAID tools and medicines to provide relief in case of sudden pains.

Training Material:

The team was well organized and equipped with all the necessary training materials. The training materials included slide presentations, equipment needed for different games within the training, the moderation box, flip chart papers, post-it notes, markers and other materials needed for training.

Health Conditions:

Nobody has faced a serious health issue from the trainers' side and trainee's.

Major Feedbacks

- Majority of the participants liked the methodology. Especially the fact that the training was practice oriented. They also mentioned that the interactive and non-formal nature of the training has helped them in the learning process.
- They admired the content since it has a logical flow and it provided information in creating own business.
- The participants also appreciated the time management of the team.
- Majority of the participants mentioned that the training has given them enough motivation and inspiration to start their own business.
- Some appreciated the creative nature of the trainings and it helped them to think outside of the box. It also helped them see the long-term vision.

Here are some of the main challenges as mentioned by the participants:

- The security situation in some of the cities where the training took place makes some participants anease: It was also a risk factor and we had to redirect some resources to mitigate this risk.
- In some circumstances the business ideas that were presented by the participants were not as innovative. Taking into consideration the limited availability of time for the training and the compactness of the training program the participants were not able to come up with innovative business ideas. There is a need for a long-term business incubation period that we need to think about in the future.
- There was less visibility of the project. In the next training we have to develop a better media and dissemination strategy to reach a wide range of spectators over a wider geographical area.
- The other challenge was dropping out of some of the participants along the training period. Since the project was a local training, this is expected. However, since we have recruited more young people than planned in the project, we were able to conclude the training with more than 30 young people in each of the planned cities.

Major Learnings

- There is high demand for entrepreneurship training in cities Bahir-Dar, Harar and Awassa.
- Youth unemployment is a pressing issue in Ethiopia, especially graduate unemployment is at critical level. Young people who are at the universities lack the prospect of having a decent job when they graduate.
- On the other hand, we have identified that there is a pool of untapped entrepreneurial potential in all the cities that we provided training. Young people are excited about the opportunities and they are constantly looking for training opportunities to develop their skills and competencies.

Way Forward

- xHub Addis is following up and providing the necessary support to the trainees and report to the Migrafrica team on the further incubation of business ideas developed as a result of the project.
- AEMFI is supporting the participants in finding financing alternatives and supporting the participants in applying for financial support.
- The winners of the business competition will get the support for their business registration and receive the prize money within three months' time;
- Migrafrica and the local partners will look for ways to establish entrepreneurship center in major cities of the country;
