

Friday 24th June 2022

Dear parents and carers,

Maths No Problem:

This week, Year 3 have quickly shown us their understand of reading the volume from a measuring beaker. Therefore, next week we will be ready to start teaching the topic fractions, please feel free to show your child any real life examples of fractions that you come across.

Spellings:

This week's spellings are focused on the words spelt 'ei' 'eigh' or 'ey'. Please spend time over the week to learn these spellings and create your own sentences using these new words in your home learning journals.

Assessment week:

During this week we have been giving your children the end of year assessments in Reading, English and Maths, these tests are for us teachers to see how well your child has progressed. As well as so we can inform their Year 4 any areas of the curriculum that need further coverage. All the Children have tried the best this week despite the heat. We hope they can now have a nice restful weekend.

Reminders:

You should by now have received your invite to the SoundStart concert. This is your opportunity to come and support your while they perform. Please see your invite as each class has their own allotted time. It would be wonderful to see as many of you come to support your children as possible. We are proud of their progress and we feel you will be too.

Upcoming events:

Monday 4th July: - SoundStart concert

Thursday 7th July: – Sandpipers class presentation (Please help your child learn their part).

Wednesday 13th July: – Kingfishers class presentation

Have a wonderful weekend, take care in the heat.

Mrs Driscoll, Miss Hewitt, Miss Selvam, Mrs Wilson and Miss Yang.
