

Friday 1st July 2022

Dear parents and carers,

Maths No Problem:

This week we have been cutting into cake and eating a sneaky piece. We have been doing this for our fractions topic. The year 3 classes have had to work out how to cut up whole cakes into equal parts. We have also been looking at fraction pairs, can your child tell you two fractions that make up one whole?

Spellings:

This week's spellings are focused on the words spelt that are plurals with a possessive apostrophe for example sheep's. Please spend time over the week to learn these spellings and create your own sentences using these new words in your home learning journals.

English:

Our current grammar focus in English is prepositions. Can your child explain to you what a preposition is? Next week, we will be writing a diary entry with our new preposition knowledge. If you have a chance to show your child some diary entries to familiarise your child with the features of a dairy.

Art:

This term's art topic is art redefined. Year 3 have been looking at less traditional art and examining what makes it art. We have been looking at the artist Constan Brancusi and his work. Then next week we will be attempting to create our own piece of redefined art, so watch this space.

Upcoming events:

Monday 4th July: - SoundStart concert

Thursday 7th July: – Sandpipers class presentation.

Wednesday 13th July: – Kingfishers class presentation

Have a wonderful weekend, take care in the heat.

Mrs Driscoll, Miss Hewitt, Miss Selvam, Mrs Wilson and Miss Yang.
