ABOUT ME

I'm a 43 year old Interior designer looking for a new and challenging position, one which will make best use of my skill set and further shape my personal development and professional career.

I'm a social, self-motivated and resourceful person with an ability to successfully translate desired stories, moods, concepts, and underdeveloped ideas into imagery and sustainable design, all with a balanced blend of creative and analytical qualities. Extensive experience within the business have given me a great understanding of dos and don'ts, both when it comes to decreasing number of revisions with clients but also regarding the technical aspects of the business.
