(TEXT) NEWS: IDEAS ARE EMERGING

=====
Idea: Normally there are an evening with literature at the Summersession. I thought we could extend the concept a bit. Usually an author comes to visit. He or she reads from books they wrote and there will be possibility for questions. Maybe we should do some more. We could invite a group of authors and ask them to DO literature together with us. We could have them for a whole day. Have dialogues about their literary work. Literature in general. About writing. They could read. Express. Even perform. In between we could have workshops with writing sessions.
