

The problem

Time-consuming and expensive machine repair & restoration work at the worksite accounts for over 12% of expenditure *

Avoiding machine repair work and unnecessary project halt costs can determine the business case profitability.

Whether you want to protect heavy machinery from muddy surfaces or avoid project halts most solutions are expensive, hazardous or extremely difficult to manage.

- Wooden bog mats are not sustainable after ongoing rain and moisture ...
- Metal and iron plates are too thin and environmentally hazardous ...

The solution

There is an option & supplement

- Durable - doesn't absorb water, flexible and follows the surface well yet Withstands even the heaviest excavators.
- Environmentally friendly – ISO certified 100% recycled polyethylene that is fully recyclable.
- Easy to manage – no requirement for multiple cranes to move.
- Cost effective - Avoid reoccurring investments after each project. Reuse year after year.
- ... Cost effective!
at a lower price* than wooden options!

(*cost of recurring investments included)
