

Nordic Permaculture Gathering 2023

Join us for the annual get-together, this time a weekend by the sea, full of inspirational talks and activities related to permaculture across the Nordic countries. The gathering will take place at a Danish folk high school in Eastern Jutland with its own little forest garden and bountiful examples of social permaculture in action.

WHEN: From Friday the 24th of February (drop in from 4-5 pm) to Sunday the 26th of February after lunch.

WHERE: Egmont Højskolen, Villavej 25, Hou, 8300 Odder, DENMARK

WHAT: We're gathering to exchange experiences and inspire each other, maintain and create connections between people interested in permaculture across borders. This event is organized through the iACT project (international Action for Community Transition), which you will know much more about after the weekend.

HOW MUCH: 200 dkk for the whole weekend (incl. accommodation and food). You have to bring bed linen.

TRANSPORTATION: There are funds to provide financial support for those travelling far, and we will help coordinate ride-sharing.

SIGN UP: Use the following link to sign up latest by February 10th:

If anyone has contributions to the program, or a project they want to present, please get in touch with Emma (emma@euh.dk) latest by January 15th. More information will follow via email and on the following Facebook event: Nordic Permaculture Gathering 2023 | Facebook

We can't wait to see you! Until then, greetings from The planning group in Denmark

P.S. Remember your swimsuit!
