

THE AMAZING RACE

ANGKOR TEMPLE AMAZING RACE
with Cambodian tuk-tuks

Siem Reap is one of the most popular MICE destination in 2018 and Angkor Wat a magnificent backdrop to your upcoming team building event. In the Amazing Race, delegates are split into teams and each team is equipped with a set of instruction sheets, a travel budget, a tour guide and one or several tuk-tuks.

After planning their route, teams take-off to Angkor Wat world heritage site. Along the race, teams must take pictures, decipher clues and market for tourist souvenirs at the local market. The team who collects the most points along the way shall be the winning team and shall be awarded with a prize.

Along their journey, teams experience the magnificent beauty of the world's largest religious monument, the Angkor Wat temple.

Also part of the race is a stop at Tha prom, famous for the movie Tom Raider and Bayon which consists of more than 200 mysterious faces carved into stone.

Delegates dive into a world of ancient kings and empires, decipher century old murals along the way and barter with locals for some souvenirs and refreshments.

For each four participant in the team, one tuk-tuk vehicle is provided. Each team consists of 6 to 10 participants and teams are accompanied by a tour guide.

Team Building

Briefing and debriefing takes place inside the hotel's meeting or ball room and typically takes about 45 minutes, including the ice breaker activity..

Once teams return from the race, they are surprised by one last bonus activity, the bug eating competition.

One person from each team must come to the stage and roll a giant dice and must complete the last challenge in order to receive points.

Points are added and the award ceremony is accompanied by frantic cheers.
