

Newsletter

Thank you for attending the launch!

We would like to express our gratitude to all who attended the launch of the Scandinavian GRADE network in person and online. We are blown away by the interest and can't wait to dig our teeth into to all the action points that we had by the end of the day.

A Scandinavian GRADE network has been long in the making and we would like to thank all of you who attended, Holger Schünemann for helping us kick off the network, the GRADE Guidance Group for approving the network and Skåne Universitetssjukhus for hosting the launch.

The aim of the network is to bring people together and to support the use of GRADE. We asked you how you would like to be brought together and what kind of support would be helpful for you. Many ideas and suggestions came up: a newsletter (you ask and we deliver 😊), information on upcoming GRADE workshops and training, training materials in the Nordic languages, a Scandinavian glossary, opportunities for sharing experiences, a channel for methods support, meetings (a Scandi Evidence Summit was mentioned), opportunities for collaboration on evidence profiles, guidelines and grant applications and a whole lot more.

As a network, we are reliant on each other to take forward the action points identified in the meeting. We will get back to you soon to ask for volunteers to participate in activities and please also send us any content that you would like to include in forthcoming newsletters (e.g., information on training opportunities).

Workshop i GRADE-Evidence-to-Decision rammeverket og kunnskapsbaserte beslutningsprosesser, Oslo, 20.januar 2023

I januar 2023 arrangerer vi en workshop der deltagere får oppleve hvordan det er å delta i et retningslinjepanel. Workshopen er en fin anledning til å prøve ut GRADE Evidence-to-Decision rammeverket og prøve seg på kunnskapsbaserte beslutninger i praksis. Workshopen foregår som en simulering. Som deltager blir du tildelt rollen til et av medlemmene i et WHO-retningslinjepanel. NB! Workshopen foregår på norsk.

Hvem kan delta? Alle som er interessert i å lære mer om hvordan forskning brukes i retningslinjer og andre beslutninger. Ingen spesielle forkunnskaper trenges.

Hvor mye tid tar det: 13. januar 2023: digitalt møte kl 1000 - 1100 20.januar 2023: fysisk møte på FHI kl 0900 - 1600

Kursledere: Claire Glenton (GRADE Scandinavia / Høgskulen på Vestlandet) og Ariane Kwiet TRS Kompetansesenter for Sjeldne Diagnoser (TRS), Sunnaas Sykehus.

Påmeldingsfrist: 23. november. Alle medlemmer av GRADE-Scandinavia's epostliste får epost med påmeldingsinformasjon. Workshopen er gratis.