If You're Even Thinking About Taking a Dive Trip in the Next 18 Months, You Need Undercurrent

Dear Fellow Diver:

For the last 16 months you have received free sample emails from Undercurrent about all aspects of dive travel and diving. But who are we?

Undercurrent is the advertising-free, nonprofit, consumer review of scuba diving that has been published monthly since 1975. Our writers review diving venues anonymously, and because we take no advertising, we only please our fellow divers, never the dive industry. Business Week has called us "the Consumer Reports of Diving."

Cover of our September Issue

We took a break in publishing due to COVID, but now our undercover reviewers are traveling again, the dive industry is gearing up, and we've resumed publishing monthly, the best source of unvarnished news about diving for dive travelers anywhere in the world! We've already covered Cozumel and Saba, with up coming reviews on shark diving off Colombia, the Turks and Caicos, the Belize Aggressor, Maui, the Maldives, and more.

And, we would like to invite you to become a subscriber.

You see, even if you're just thinking about dive travel in the next year, these are stories you should not miss.

Not only will you read about the best places to dive -- and the destinations to forget about -- we will provide you with the information you need to know about dealing with COVID restrictions.

This month we wrote about an unnecessary bends hit in the Galapagos -- and how the instructor failed how divers may spread stony coral disease and what to do about it ... and coming up, how to avoid that common but little-known regulator problem the best reachable destinations with the least risk of COVID and which have such tough COVID restrictions it's no fun to go there.

If you're a serious diver ready to get back in the water, this is the kind of information you need. So, we'd like to invite you to join the Undercurrent community of serious divers.

Besides receiving monthly issues, which run 16 or more ad-free pages, we email our subscribers frequently -- emails filled with important diving information, and what stories are coming up by our travel reviewers (who pay their own way and take no favors), and critical information on safety, health, equipment, and dive travel you'll find nowhere else.

So, I am offering you a seven-month trial subscription for just $26.95, and if at any time during these six months you want your money back, email me, and you'll get it, no questions asked . I've kept that promise since 1975.

As a subscriber, you can read scores upon scores of reports already pouring in from our fellow subscribers: divers who have just dived the Keys, Belize, Bonaire, Hawaii, Cabo and Socorro, and many other places . There's no better way to get current and honest information about these dive destinations than from divers like you who have just come home . You can even email them for more information.

So, to accept our money-back offer of $26.95 for seven months, just click here.

If you don't think you know enough about Undercurrent, visit more of our website and review a couple of decades of back issues.

And, while you're there, I hope you'll subscribe and join the thousands upon thousands of other divers who have been with us for longer than I can remember. They wouldn't do diving without Undercurrent, and neither should you.
