Dear Gary,

Thank you for your rapid reply. I found the web page for Far Asia Ltd and will write and ask them. I understand from your letter that it might be difficult to get the material only, but we will see.

Again thank you.

Best regards

Hans

Dear Hans

Far Asia Ltd (China) are still manufacturing 12-bolt suits, therefore they have the rubberised canvas in China. We did buy a number of suits from them some years ago and managed to also buy replacement wrist seals, neck seals and small quantity of canvas for repairs but they were very reluctant !!

I doubt that they manufacture the material themselves, maybe an internet search !!

Hello Hans,

Thank you for your email.

That is a very good question. I don't know the answer. But I will send your email to other members in the society and see if someone might know where to get the material you need. I am sure they will reply to you if they can help.

Best regards,

Ann Bevan

Subject: Rubberized canvas for suit

Message Body:
Dear friends

I hope everything is OK with you and HDS. Next year we will celebrate our 40 year anniversary of SDHF and the rescue/salvage of the Escape training tank, that now is our museum. More info will follow when plans are brought further.

My question today relates to difficulties to find a suitable material for the making of a replica of a "Carlson halvkostym" as we call it or split suit in English. We would like to make it in, if possible, the original rubber canvass or, if not possible to find, a more modern material, but the original beige color. If you know any address where we could buy a suitable material for this project we would be grateful.

Looking forward to seeing you in Stockholm if not earlier so 2019 at the anniversary.

Best regards

Hans Ornhagen
