

Sponsored by:

Shell Bitumen

SITE SAFETY INITIATIVE AWARD

FINALISTS:

Dyer & Butler – Enhanced buried services and safe excavation procedure

Lancashire County Council – Reducing HAVS in the workplace

Solar Gates UK and Kier Highways – SOSEC Solar, Touch Screen Site Safety GS6 Barrier

The Site Safety Initiative Award - sponsored by Shell Bitumen - is awarded to any organisation for a new initiative, development or scheme to raise awareness of the dangers facing personnel whilst working in the highways environment. This can be achieved through the use of new technology and/or worker/driver education and training to demonstrate improved health & safety awareness.

WINNER:

Connect Plus working in Partnership with Steve Perkins Associates – Healthier Highways on the M25

Below: Mark Brigstocke (Host), Leigh Cakebread (Connect Plus), Adam Dunleavy (Connect Plus Services), Gabriella Margherita (Connect Plus Services), Andy Dean (Connect Plus), Steve Perkins (Steve Perkins Associates), Mehul Shah (Connect Plus), Abhishek Jain (Connect Plus Services), Abbey Featherstone (Connect Plus Services), Shaahid Ismail (Connect Plus) and Rachael Morgan (Shell Bitumen, Sponsor).

What the Judges said:

“ This year’s winner took a novel approach to supporting sector well-being and safety, delivering strong evidence of culture change and a preventative approach based on excellent engagement with working groups ”

