ETNA & TASTING

A visit to Etna, the highest volcano in Europe, included in the UNESCO list of the World Heritage Sites, is a once-in-a-lifetime experience you'll never forget. We drive along the winding road leading to Etna Sud and the Crateri Silvestri area, at 1800 mt a.s.l. As we get higher and higher, the view becomes wider, including the sea, Catania, the woods on the slopes of the volcano. You can go hiking in this area, exploring the Crateri Silvestri, which are two extinct craters, or you can continue further on, taking the cable car and then a 4x4 minivan up to about 3000 mts. The landscape around the central crater is lunar and in clear days you'll enjoy an amazing view on half of Sicily, from Siracusa in the south to Messina and continental Italy in the north, on the Nebrodi mountains and the hilly Sicilian inland.

As the volcano is still active, please note that the excursion to the top can be cancelled anytime. Back at the foot of the mountain, enjoy a wine and honey tasting as well as a typical Sicilian lunch in a local wine cellar.
