PANAREA & STROMBOLI

HD

Depart from Lipari at around 2 pm. First stop is in Panarea, for about 45 minutes (you can explore the area, the bay of Calajunco or take a bath).

Then proceed to Stromboli. From the sea you'll see the small village of Ginostra and Strombolicchio (a huge rock). On the island of Stromboli you'll have some free time to explore the small town and the black lavic beaches, and for some shopping.

At 6:30 you'll board and have dinner on the boat. Then departure to see the awesome explosions of the volcano at the Sciara del Fuoco.

The Stromboli has been continuously erupting for thousands of years, and visitors flock here to watch from a safe distance as lava and gas are ejected from craters just below the summit at intervals of roughly twenty minutes. In the daytime this is visible as a plume of gas looking like smoke. At night, you can see fiery red fountains shooting upwards.

Return to Lipari (arrival is at about 11:00 PM).
