Regulatory Product Compliance Support Plans

Keeping track of REACH, POP & RoHS restrictions, assessing requirements and exemptions, dealing with supply chain communication, submitting SCIP notifications, assessing & processing supplier information, providing compliance statements and communication with inspectors is a burden for especially small and medium sized companies that lack specialised staff. Even large companies often need a sparring partner, trainer or external auditor in their compliance work.

Training courses and compliance audits are a good start towards product compliance. A growing number of customers chooses to expand our services to structural, pro-active support and hire us as their compliance officer who keeps the organisation informed and on track with the necessary compliance actions.

See below our Regulatory Product Compliance Support plans to help you further minimise non-compliance risks and recalls. Any current consultancy project/ budget can be updated to one of below plans.
