

Acknowledgements for Security and/or Theft-Relevant Parts and Structural Components

- (1) Note: Security and/or Theft-Relevant Parts. Parts considered security and/or theft–relevant require special programming and/or setup, and are only able to be configured by automotive professionals who are registered with a vehicle security accreditation organization.

(2) Terms and Conditions of Sale for Structural Components

By purchasing structural component(s) through the Electronic Parts Catalog (EPC), you (the purchaser of the component(s) or an authorized representative) are agreeing to the following terms and conditions in addition to the EPC Terms and Conditions. In the case of any conflict between these Terms and Conditions of Sale for Structural Components and the EPC Terms and Conditions, these Terms and Conditions of Sale for Structural Components shall govern.

In these Terms and Conditions of Sale for Structural Components, whenever we say ‘we’, ‘us’ or ‘our’, that means the Tesla entity included in the EPC Terms and Conditions. Tesla defines a structural component as any bonded, welded, weld-bonded, rivet-bonded, or riveted part of the vehicle.

Only qualified personnel should perform structural repairs, using only the procedures, chemicals, fasteners, equipment, tools, and methods described in the model-specific Tesla Collision Repair Manual for the vehicle, as well as other model-specific repair and maintenance information provided by Tesla Inc at service.tesla.com. Repairs must be performed in accordance with all applicable laws, regulations, and safety protocols.

Purchase Acknowledgments

You acknowledge that:

- We recommend you are a professional repairer and that you understand the hazardous nature of attempting any repair or replacement of Structural Components, and the risks and dangers involved in the repair or replacement of these components. Such risks include, but are not limited to, physical injury during the repair procedure.
- Incorrectly performed repairs may lead to the vehicle having incorrect function or performance issues in normal operation, or compromised safety in the event of a collision.
- Tesla is not liable for any injury to personnel, damage to the vehicle, damage to equipment, or damage to property during any vehicle assessment, the handling of any components during transport, or the removal, installation, and/or use of the components. Tesla is not, to the fullest extent permitted by law, liable for injury resulting from any such activity performed during assessment or repair of the vehicle, which you understand you are completing at your own risk.
- You have thoroughly reviewed Tesla’s Collision Repair Manual and Service Manual, and understand the necessary industry standard trainings and certifications required to perform the repair.

- You have successfully completed any required training or certification process that is otherwise required under locally applicable laws and regulations.
- This purchase does not include any services or installation, which may be available and quoted separately upon your request at Tesla Service Centers, Tesla Approved Collision Centers, or Tesla Collision Centers.
- You have verified that the component matches the configuration and year of the vehicle being repaired.
- You agree to have received, read and understand the Tesla Parts, Body and Paint Repair Limited Warranty from our website.
- You agree that the Tesla Parts, Body and Paint Repair Limited Warranty is the only express warranty made in connection with your purchase of a component and that this warranty replaces all warranties of any kind, whether express, implied, statutory or otherwise, which are disclaimed to the fullest extent permitted by law.

Shipment

You are liable for any costs related to the shipment of the component, including any damage during transport.

You understand that specific tools (for example, a forklift) may be recommended or required to load or unload the component from the transport vehicle, and that this is at your cost.